MARYLAND – The Global University

Maryland's most famous alumnus, John Glenn, took some courses from the University's Pentagon "campus."

With classes taught in some 400 outposts around the world, Maryland is probably the most diversified educational institution on earth—and with John Glenn's famed orbital flight, it can be truly said that this University has gone "out of this world." Although proud of its global aspects, the University is proudest of its academic achievements at home and the editors dedicate the 1963 Terrapin to the steady increase in the "quantity of quality" education.

President Wilson H. Elkins

SINCE SEPTEMBER of 1954, Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, President of the University of Maryland, has guided the students of the University toward higher goals and standards in ethical as well as scholastic facets of living. A man of outstanding abilities and achievements, Dr. Elkins has time and again proven his leadership in education administration.

From 1928 to 1932, Dr. Elkins did undergraduate work at the University of Texas. He was a Rhodes Scholar from 1933 to 1936, and at the end of that time he received his Bachelor of Letters and Doctor of Philosophy degrees from Oxford University, England. In addition to these, he was recipient of two honorary degrees: from Washington College, in 1954, and from Johns Hopkins University in 1955.

Dr. Elkins is a member of Phi Beta Kappa honor fraternity and Who's Who in American Education. Besides this list of high academic achievements, President Elkins demonstrated great athletic abilities during his undergraduate and graduate career at the University of Texas.

DR. FRANKLIN L. BENTZ

MR. B. JAMES BORRESON

Executive Staff

DR. KUHN, as Executive Vice President of the University since 1958, has under his jurisdiction the task of seeing that policies formulated by the staff are carried out.

Dr. Hornbake has been Vice President of Academic Affairs since 1960. He has the overwhelming job of continuing the expansion and improvement of the Academic program.

Mr. Cormeny regulates the expenditure of funds used for University improvement.

Dr. Bentz makes plans for the necessary expansion of needed facilities called for by the ever-increasing University.

Problems of the student body, of both personal and academic nature are handled by Dean Borreson.

Deans of Women

DEAN CLARKE, working with the three assistant deans of women, holds the responsibility for the entire women's program at the University of Maryland. Previous to her present position, Miss Clarke was Assistant Dean of Students at the University of California, at Berkeley, and Dean of Women at Lake Forest College.

Miss McCormick registers the various campus social events. She also holds the position of Panhellenic advisor.

Miss Billings is responsible for the ever-expanding women's housing program as well as serving as advisor to numerous campus organizations such as AWS, Diadem, Campus Chest, Alpha Lambda Delta, Judicial Board, and Mortar Board.

In addition to being in charge of building repairs, Miss Johnson advises the many members of Commuters Club.

EILEEN McCORMICK, JULIA BILLINGS, HELEN CLARKE, MARIAN JOHNSON.

Deans of Men

Administrative Deans

AS FIRST Dean of Men, Dean Geary Eppley is in charge of student welfare and athletics. Other services which Dean Eppley has supervised are part-time employment for students and Student Government Activities.

Succeeding George Kaludis, Mr. Florestano is the newly appointed Assistant Dean of Student Activities. Being a graduate of the University of Maryland himself, Mr. Florestano is quite familiar with the student activities which he now coordinates as Dean. Among these are Student Government Activities, Freshman Orientation Week, and Interfraternity Council.

Mr. Royal, Assistant Dean of Men, has varied responsibilities which include off-campus housing, chairmanship of the Traffic Appeals Board and Commencement Committee, and coaching for soccer and tennis.

Board of Regents

THE WORK of the Board of Regents is varied and includes numerous things such as the handling and approving of the University's plans and policies concerned with appropriating funds, naming buildings, and appointments.

The ten members which compose the Board are appointed by the governor of Maryland for a period of nine years. In addition to their previously stated duties, they attend meetings of the State Board of Agriculture in order to gain insight into the management of numerous agricultural matters.

Standing committees are appointed to handle such matters as making studies of policies concerning business and management, the hospital and medical schools, and endowments. They also affirm dates of commencements.

Whether presiding over the frying pan or planning campus expansion, Dr. Elkins is always on the job.

Busiest Man On Campus

President Elkins Finds A Time for Work . . .

DR. WILSON H. ELKINS has been president of the University of Maryland for eight years. A man with firm convictions and a knack for making those convictions contagious, he has assumed the awesome responsibility of creating an environment at Maryland in which a great variety of abilities and interests may become "a quantity of quality."

Despite a multitude of official duties, and the almost phenomenal expansion of enrollment, Dr. Elkins is no distant, string-pulling administrator. He is very much aware of campus activities, and he feels that student problems should be given thorough consideration by the administration. Each student, he feels, must be provided an opportunity to achieve his own goals. "If individuality is submerged in a mass of mediocrity, this country will lose its leadership and the cause of freedom will suffer a terrible blow."

... And a Time for Relaxing

WITH ALL the duties of being President of a large and expanding university, Dr. Elkins still finds time for a multitude of "extra-curricular" activities. As might be expected of a transplanted Texan, Dr. Elkins has a horse. He also has an active interest in athletics. This interest has carried over from his own college days, when he earned eight varsity letters for his proficiency in football, basketball and track. This has influenced Dr. Elkins' view of a liberal education. He feels strongly that values and attitudes developed in activities outside the classroom, including football, are important elements of a liberal education. He asks only that, "everything at the University be a credit to an institution of higher learning and be subject to control and supervision by those who are charged with responsibility."

Dr. Elkins is also a family man. He enjoys a quiet evening with his wife and two daughters and can usually be found puttering in the kitchen. His interests range from frying eggs to flying planes, but none overshadow his primary desire to give active and purposeful leadership to the University of Maryland as it takes its part "in expanding the intellectual horizons and the scientific frontiers thus helping mankind to go forward—always toward the promise of a better tomorrow."

College of Agriculture

DEAN GORDON M. CAIRNS heads this college as it works for agricultural progress at Maryland.

THE COLLEGE of Agriculture is more than a Dairy. Although ice cream cones are among its more apparent contributions to the Maryland campus, this college works toward two primary goals: research and student training. Founded in 1856, the College of Agriculture was the first college of the University of Maryland. Since then, it has constantly kept abreast of technological advancements. Experiments and studies are conducted on the College Park campus and in other locations through a broad extension service. Information from these projects is available to agriculturalists throughout the United States and in many foreign countries.

This year the college's seventeen curricula were completely reorganized. Three pre-professional courses are offered: Theology, for students who anticipate rural congregations; Veterinary Science; and Forestry. Through classroom studies and practical application in laboratory and "field work," the students of Dean Gordon M. Cairns' College of Agriculture prepare themselves for their chosen vocation as they advance agricultural knowledge and techniques.

WINNERS of the Ag Weekend Cow Milking Contest admire their hard earned trophy. They are Nancy Rothwell and Dianne Stiller.

THEIR PRIZE-WINNING technique is displayed by the cow milking champions.

THE QUESTION is, what to pull when.

College of Arts and Sciences

ESTABLISHED in 1921, the College of Arts and Sciences is the largest in the University. Within its fifteen departments are the physical sciences, the fine arts and the humanities. Graduates may earn degrees of Bachelor of Arts, of Sciences, and of Music. This year, the departments of physics, astronomy, music, art and speech have expanded to provide for programs leading to master degrees.

Important to the language department is the modern electronic language laboratory. Under the sponsorship of the English Department is the campus literary magazine, Expression. Operating University Theater is an important function of the Department of Speech and Drama.

An expanding and active college, under the guidance of Dean Charles Manning, the College of Arts and Sciences produces graduates with a full and useful academic background.

DEAN CHARLES MANNING is a nimble administrator.

A VITAL PART of liberal education is personal expression, at the drawing board or in the science laboratory.

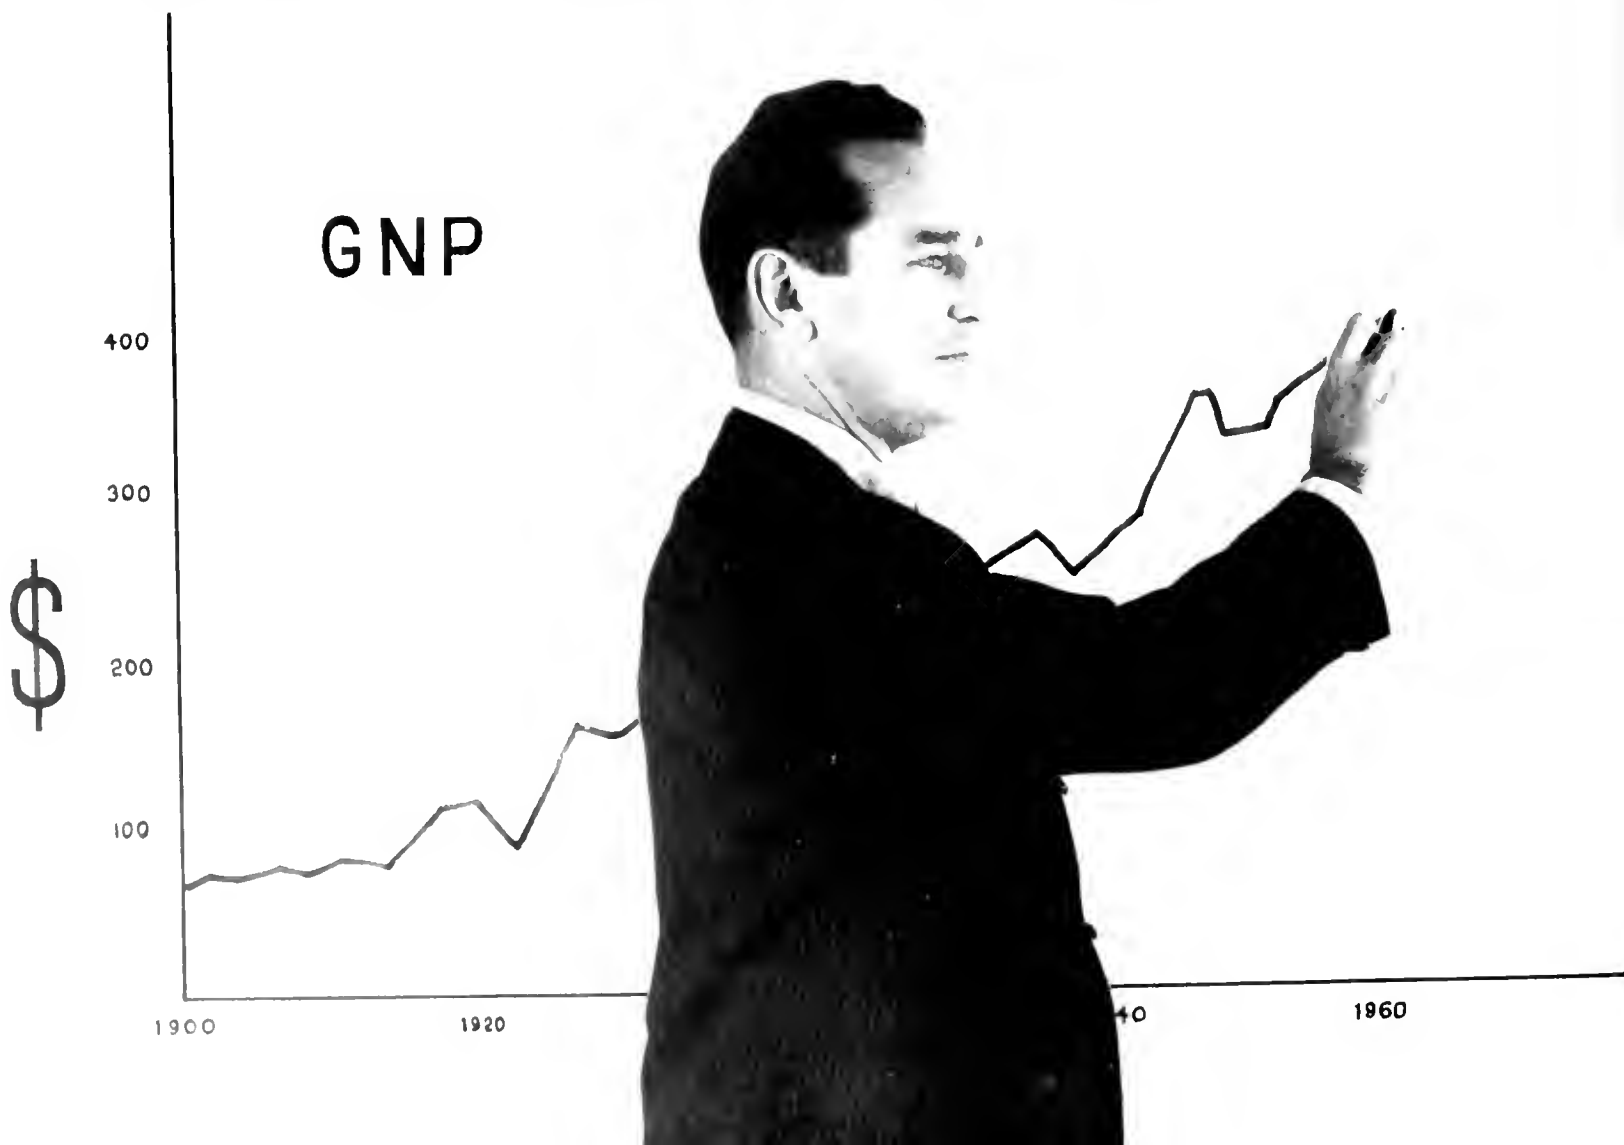

THE JOURNALISM DEPARTMENT'S darkroom provides modern equipment for campus publications photographers.

College of Business and Public Administration

DEAN DONALD W. O'CONNELL'S college is on the rise like the gross national product.

BUSINESS leaders of tomorrow prepare themselves today in the halls of the new Business and Public Administration Building. Accounting, Real Estate, Transportation, Foreign Service, Geography, Government and Politics, Journalism and Office Management are some of the fields open to majors. This year two important projects were initiated: a program leading to the degree of Master of Business Administration, and a joint appointment with the Computer Service Center to advance computer-related research and instruction. The Bureaus of Governmental Research and Economic Research are also under the auspices of this College. These organizations prepare studies for the benefit of the community and provide valuable experience for the students.

The Department of Journalism and Public Relations is set up in its own building, complete with student publications offices, photographic developing rooms and the Associated Press Wire Service. Under the supervision of this department are the Diamondback, the campus newspaper issued four times a week, and the TERRAPIN. Led by its new dean, Donald W. O'Connell, the College of Business and Public Administration continues its program of expansion and progress.

THE FACTS and figures of economics are important for our understanding of fluctuating business life.

IN THE LIGHT, spacious, air-conditioned auditorium of the new BPA building, a class learns all about banking.

DEAN VERNON E. ANDERSON is the headmaster for tomorrow's educators.

College of Education

FROM THE College of Education come teachers prepared for classes in nursery school, kindergarten, elementary and secondary schools, and in fields of industrial education. This College also offers its facilities to present teachers supplementing their work and to graduate students preparing for counselling, supervisory or administrative positions. Established in 1920, it is fully accredited and awards either a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Sciences degree. In addition to offering many courses in extension at the Baltimore Campus, the College operates the University Nursery School and Kindergarten, a science teaching center, a modern reading clinic and the Bureau of Educational Research and Field Services, which was introduced in September, 1962.

EVEN A HAND washing operation requires close concentration.

AT THE UNIVERSITY nursery and kindergarten new skills and ideas find eager experimenters.

Headed by Dean Vernon E. Anderson, the College of Education provides aspiring teachers practical experience with children through its program of student teaching in local schools. The Institute for Child Study, also part of the College, organizes teachers in seventy school systems throughout the country to aid them in understanding and helping children. Today's great demand for well-trained, capable teachers is being served by Maryland's College of Education.

A STUDENT TEACHER shows a young pupil the standard paper-cutting technique.

College of Engineering

EVEN THESE MINUTE metallic shavings are of importance in understanding the intricacies of mechanical engineering.

THIS GIGANTIC WIND tunnel which is used for testing aerodynamic shapes is one example of the department's many excellent facilities.

THE COLLEGE of Engineering, headed by Dean Frederic Mavis, encompasses in its instruction and research a vast and varied body of subject matter. Students may select from six areas of study: civil, aeronautical, chemical, electrical and mechanical engineering, and fire protection. To keep abreast of advancements in science and industry, the College must continually reorganize and supplement its curricula. Presently the engineering programs integrate basic sciences, engineering sciences, professional studies, liberal arts and social studies.

In September 1962, the college introduced an independent closed circuit television system for students of engineering science. Characterized by a live audience and a device permitting a hook-up with a movie camera, and the prospect of a special earphone set for lecturer-classroom communication, this new television system promises to continue the College's development and progress. The new Gamma Ray reactor further improves facilities for advanced study.

A SEMESTER'S concentrated effort was devoted to produce the answer to a mathematical engineering problem requiring the use of this IBM computer.

DEAN FREDERIC MAVIS is responsible for educating the engineers that are vital to America's strength.

College of Home Economics

MARGARET BRENT HALL, with its welcome mat, flower boxes and lovely interior, appropriately houses the College of Home Economics. Over 2,000 students, predominately feminine, follow courses in the departments of Food, Nutrition, Institution Administration, Textiles and Clothing, Family Life and Management, and Practical Art.

Graduates are prepared to work in various technical and commercial fields, education and community-family relations. Practical experience gained by living in the "Home Management House" gives the girls a chance to apply methods and ideas learned in class to actual home situations. In addition, the college uses kitchens complete with modern appliances and rooms equipped for sewing and fashion designing. Under the guidance of Dean Selma F. Lippeat, the College of Home Economics provides a liberal education centered upon the interests of the individual, the consumer and the family.

DEAN SELMA F. LIPPEAT has her hands full guiding perspective home economists.

THE SCIENTIFIC APPROACH to homemaking finds application in laboratory analysis.

VERSATILE COLE FIELDHOUSE is the heart of Maryland's athletic endeavours.

College of Physical Education

THE COLLEGE of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health, in keeping with the national emphasis on physical fitness, offers vigorous indoor and outdoor programs for students. Under the direction of Dean Lester M. Fraley, the college provides preparation leading to the Bachelor of Sciences degree in five professional areas: Physical Education, Dance, Health Education, Recreation and Physical Therapy. Special curricula are also offered in safety education and elementary physical education.

In conjunction with the Graduate School and College of Education, graduate programs are available in physical education, health education, and recreation. Activities of this college center around Cole and Preinkert Fieldhouses.

AGILITY and determination are essential elements for a winning performance.

ACHIEVING and maintaining peak physical fitness is the goal of the department.

DEAN LESTER M. FRALEY goes all out to keep the student body in top physical shape.

Munich Branch

COLLEGE-AGE dependents of military and government personnel stationed overseas may complete their freshman and sophomore years at the Munich Branch of the European Division of University College. The courses are of American college standards and are generally those included in the curricula of the College of Arts and Sciences. Admission requirements are identical to those of the College Park campus. The academic year consists of two semesters of regularly scheduled daytime classes. The opportunity to travel throughout Europe and to study surrounded by Bavarian charm gives the students of the Munich campus unique advantages.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND—A worldwide source of education and knowledge.

MORE THAN 40,000 part-time adult students enroll each year in courses offered through University College in the state of Maryland and overseas. The overseas courses are offered on 200 military installations in 25 foreign countries in cooperation with the Armed Forces of the United States. Full-time resident faculty is supplemented by part-time faculty drawn from the local areas. All overseas study is fully accredited by the University of Maryland. Approximately 200 military and civilian personnel stationed overseas complete their Bachelor degree each year. Commencement exercises are held each spring in Tokyo and Heidelberg, Germany.

Headquarters of the entire program is here in College Park, with division offices in Tokyo and Heidelberg. An important part of the program on campus is the Conferences and Institutes Division which administers a specially designed non-credit program for administrative groups in Maryland and the Eastern United States.

EMERGENCY
ENTRANCE

*Emergency
Dr. Gallager*

A Doctor in the House:

Intern at Work on the Campus

EMERGENCY call—again. Into a world of cold steel, white sheets and pain, the doctor's capable hands bring reassurance of skillful, compassionate aid. Dr. Larry Gallager, on duty in the accident room, is one of the graduates of the University of Maryland Medical School working as an intern in the University Hospital at Baltimore.

If his face shows fatigue, perhaps it is the result of a hectic weekly schedule: 15 hours work, 18 hours off, 18 hours work, 24 hours off. In the emergency room, however, Dr. Gallager's personal feelings must come after his important duty to those who need his help. Dr. Gallager may be tired, but under his care are the sick, the injured, the anxious, the dying. They depend upon his skill and he must not fail them.

AFTER four years of undergraduate study at Haverford College in Pennsylvania, and four years of medical training at Maryland University, Dr. Gallager is well qualified to bring relief to those in need.

On his way toward his goal of attaining board certification as a specialist in internal medicine, Larry started work as an intern after his graduation from medical school in June, 1962.

During his year of internship, he spends two months in both the male and pulmonary wards, one month in the private ward, and two months in the accident room. He completes his year's work with two more months in private wards and one month each with "out-patient" care, the neurological ward, and male and female wards.

THE Oath of Hippocrates, to which Larry swore his loyalty at his graduation from medical school, stands as a guide toward the ideal pattern for his life as a doctor. "I will follow that system of regimen which, according to my ability and judgment, I consider for the benefit of my patients."

Part of that "system of regimen" are the years of intensive preparation leading to the various levels of medical qualification. After Larry completes his year as an intern, he will begin his three years "in residence," gaining further hospital experience in his chosen field of internal medicine.

Skilled hands draw together the edges of a wound.

WITH the School of Medicine, on the Baltimore campus are located the five other professional schools: Law, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Nursing, and Physical Therapy. Thirty-two miles from College Park, the Baltimore campus is part of the city's downtown section.

OLD and new are found together on the campus, with Davidge Hall, the oldest building in the country used continuously for medical education, elbowed by the year-old Health Sciences Library; University Hospital, Maryland's oldest hospital, competes with the new five-story Student Union Building. The school of Dentistry is the oldest in the United States; the school of Physical Therapy has only recently been established.

University Hospital, as a teaching hospital, brings in a variety of cases to be treated. Here a small boy with a banged head receives medication—and a large dose of that all-important “tender loving care.”

*“With purity and with holiness
I will pass my life and practice my art . . .”*

A tired Dr. Gallagher listens to another set of symptoms.

SO it goes. Routine complaint may be followed by severe injury, as each day brings its own problems and crises. In the midst of this world of chronic flux, Dr. Gallagher all too seldom has time for his own thoughts. Twenty-seven years old, he has been married for five years. While his children, Larry, Jr., age two, and Kathy, age seven months, have dinner with mother in their Baltimore apartment, daddy often must snatch a moment in a temporarily deserted room for a home-packed meal.

Like his fellow student doctors, Larry has set no easy course for his life. Hardship and discouragement may lie ahead. Why choose such a demanding career? Perhaps Dr. Gallagher knows that just as certain pain gives promise of relief, the deepest satisfaction is the hardest won.

It really doesn't hurt that much?

DEAN RONALD BAMFORD of the Graduate School manages to avoid all undergraduates, while busily trying to help those preparing for their advanced degrees in Maryland's seven other colleges.

THE MOST PRECISE degree of accuracy is required with scientific experimentation in the microbiology laboratories.

Graduate School

THE GRADUATE School's expansive new quarters in the College of Business and Public Administration parallel its increasing enrollment. Since its establishment in 1918, the College has grown rapidly, and now awards over 100 doctorates each year.

Despite this expansion, the program remains essentially that of individual study under competent supervision.

The Graduate School, under Dean Ronald Bamford, is an administrative office organized to establish requirements and policies for degrees of advanced study from the more than fifty co-operating departments and to handle and approve dissertations and oral examinations.

THE FAMOUS pigeon experiment is one of Maryland's Graduate School's achievements.

NEW DISCOVERIES in psychology are the goals of every graduate in this field of research.

Alpha Chi Sigma

THE ONLY national professional chemistry fraternity in the United States, Alpha Chi Sigma is represented at Maryland by the Alpha Rho Chapter. Membership is open to all men students planning a career in some phase of chemistry or related fields. The fraternity requires its members to maintain high academic averages in addition to participation in various chapter-sponsored campus activities. At Maryland, the Alpha Chi Sigmas sponsor a tutoring program in general chemistry, the Drake Memorial Award to the most promising sophomore majoring in chemistry, and the Alpha Chi Sigma Award, presented to the outstanding senior in chemistry, chemical or metallurgical engineering.

Alpha Chi Sigma was founded in 1902, and organized at Maryland in 1927. The fraternity provides a social, scholastic and professional program for its members, in order to promote more general interest in the chemical sciences.

Highlighting the Alpha Chi Sigma social calendar is the annual Tetra-Banquet, sponsored jointly with the George Washington University collegiate chapter as well as the professional chapters in both Baltimore and Washington.

Alpha Lambda Delta

FRESHMAN women who have demonstrated high academic achievement are tapped to membership in Alpha Lambda Delta each spring.

The University of Maryland chapter of Alpha Lambda Delta sponsors each year a tutoring service offered free of charge to all freshman students. The members of the honorary aim to serve the University by assisting at various cultural functions.

The accent is on "Intellectual Living" in the Adele H. Stamp chapter of the honorary, which seeks to expand the cultural and intellectual atmosphere at Maryland.

In order to be eligible for membership, a woman student must attain a scholastic average of 3.5 during the first semester, or a 3.5 overall average during the freshman year.

Alpha Zeta

EVERY LAND grant college in the United States has one thing in common: at least one chapter of Alpha Zeta, a national agricultural honorary fraternity. At Maryland, the Alpha Zetas have a special interest in recognizing outstanding achievement in varied fields of study in the College of Agriculture. Included in the awards presented annually are the Freshman Scholarship Award; the Showmanship Award, presented to the grand champion animal husbandry and dairy showmen at the annual student livestock show; the Livestock Judging Award; and the Blackhall Memorial Trophy, presented to the outstanding member of the Maryland chapter.

Each of the national chapters of Alpha Zeta are represented biannually at the fraternity's National Conclave, which, in addition to being a social event, the Conclave provides an opportunity for discussion of current issues of importance to agriculture.

Beta Alpha Psi

MARYLAND students who have proven themselves to be outstanding in the field of accounting are honored by membership in Beta Alpha Psi. In order to be eligible for membership, a student must demonstrate that he can maintain an overall average of 3.0 and an average of 3.5 in all accounting courses. In addition, a candidate for membership in Beta Alpha Psi must submit a thousand word research paper and pass a four hour written examination.

During the school year, Beta Alpha Psi brings to the University a series of outstanding speakers, associated with every phase of the accounting profession.

The purpose of the fraternity is to promote interest in the accounting profession, both on and off campus, as well as to honor those evidencing outstanding promise in the field.

Beta Gamma Sigma

CELEBRATION of Beta Gamma Sigma's 50th anniversary was climaxed in April by the society's Golden Anniversary Convention held in Phoenix, Arizona.

Membership in Beta Gamma Sigma is the highest scholastic honor which a student in business administration or economics can attain. Organized in 1913, to reward and encourage scholarship in the area of business studies, the society now has 86 chapters in the United States.

Chi Epsilon

ALTHOUGH only two years old, the University of Maryland chapter of Chi Epsilon participates in an active program to promote better scholarship by offering a tutoring service to students majoring in civil engineering.

Diamond

OUTSTANDING sorority women who have contributed both to the campus and to their individual chapters are given recognition for their achievements by membership in Diamond. Each sorority may nominate a maximum of three girls.

Delta Nu Alpha

DELTA NU ALPHA, professional transportation fraternity, provides both social and educational opportunities for its members.

Delta Sigma Pi

IN ORDER to promote a closer affiliation between the commercial world and students of business, Delta Sigma Pi was organized at Maryland in 1950 with the aim of furthering a higher standard of commercial ethics for the benefit of the community. A professional fraternity, Delta Sig works throughout the year to foster the study of business in the University, to encourage scholarship, social activity, and the association of students for their mutual advancement through practice and research.

Under the leadership of president Wendell Wiener, Delta Sig has sponsored many dinners and professional tours throughout the past year, availing the members of the opportunity of hearing noted speakers in various fields of business.

The Delta Sigma Pi scholarship key, awarded annually to the male graduate of the College of Business who has achieved the highest academic average in his class, is evidence of the fraternity's interest in promoting and recognizing scholarship. The Delta Sigs themselves set an example in scholarship during the past year by maintaining at least a 2.6 average.

The Gamma Sigma chapter requires potential pledges to have attained sophomore status in the College of Business and public Administration, and have an overall academic average at least equal to the men's general overall average.

DO YOU KNOW how to use a slide rule? If not, the members of Eta Kappa Nu, the honorary for students of electrical engineering, will be happy to show you how. In fact, the Gamma Xi chapter sponsors a program of slide ruler instructions throughout the year to aid scholarship.

Active both on and off campus, the Eta Kappa Nus travel to area high schools several times each semester to present programs which will stimulate interest in the engineering professions. They are also active both behind the scenes, and in attendance at the Engineering Open House.

Junior and Senior Electrical Engineering students who have shown outstanding achievement in their field are honored by membership in Eta Kappa Nu. Qualifications for membership include a high scholastic standing in electrical engineering, an ability to work well with others, and an interest and active participation in subjects other than his major.

Gamma Alpha Chi

WOMEN STUDENTS who are interested in some phase of advertising as a career, may be elected to membership in Gamma Alpha Chi, the national professional women's advertising fraternity.

Gamma Alpha Chi was organized two years ago at Maryland with the aim of broadening and increasing the opportunities for women in the advertising profession, and to encourage the development of higher educational and professional standards in advertising. During the past year, the Gamma Alpha Chis have planned many workshop sessions, in order to learn the latest advertising techniques, as well as field trips, to see "behind the scenes" work in various advertising firms.

Gamma Theta Upsilon

TO PROMOTE geography in all of its aspects—professionally, scientifically, and educationally—is the aim of Gamma Theta Upsilon, the professional geography fraternity. In order to keep abreast of all that's new in the field of geography, Gamma Theta Upsilon has many outstanding speakers in the field, for enlightenment on current innovations in the study of geography.

The fraternity doesn't stop with geography in the classroom, however. Their program features field trips throughout the year, as well as the fraternity's national conventions.

GAMMA THETA UPSILON—Front Row: Joseph Wiedel, adviser: Nancy Cheston, vice-president: Annie Limpa, Amara: George Madden, president: James Glenn, secretary-treasurer. Second Row: Kenneth P. KALEGETHOS, the Greek men's honorary, recognizes men who have made worthwhile contributions to their respective fraternities, the Inter-fraternity system, and to the University. Prospective members are nominated by their chapters, and accepted by vote of the current members of the honorary.

First established on the University of Maryland campus in 1959, the aim of Kalegethos is promote and improve the fraternity system, both on and off campus, through the leadership of outstanding fraternity men.

Fraternity men are tapped to membership in the honorary twice each year, at Harmony Hall, and the Interfraternity Sing.

In addition to various service programs throughout the year, Kalegethos sponsors several social functions each semester, including desserts sponsored jointly with Diamond, the sorority women's honorary.

Kappa Alpha Mu

“SAY CHEESE!” That’s the self-styled motto of the members of Kappa Alpha Mu, the professional fraternity for photo-journalists.

In addition to honoring those students who have made significant contributions to University publications, Kappa Alpha Mu strives to improve the quality of photography and to assist those who plan a career as journalist-photographers.

The KAM program features lectures, demonstrations and discussions on the latest photographic techniques in order to improve personal ability in using a camera, and more efficient production of photographs.

Kappa Delta Pi

JUNIORS and Seniors in the College of Education with an overall academic average of at least 3.1 may be tapped for membership in Kappa Delta Pi, the education honorary.

Kappa Delta Pi strives to foster high standards of preparation for teaching as a career, and to invite into its fellowship those who have attained excellence in scholarship and distinction as public servants in the field of education.

A national honorary, Kappa Delta Pi was established at the University of Illinois in 1911. Since that time more than 230 chapters have been installed at colleges and universities throughout the United States. The University of Maryland's Chapter, Iota Upsilon, was organized in 1962, to carry on the aims of the national organization, and especially to keep pace with the growing emphasis on the field of education.

KAPPA KAPPA PSI—Front Row: Glenn W. Shaw, secretary; Wayne E. # Kappa Kappa Psi

THE MEMBERS of Kappa Kappa Psi, the honorary fraternity which recognizes outstanding members of the Maryland Band, have enjoyed an active and busy year. Highlighting Kappa Kappa Psi's activity calendar for the year was the annual High School Band Day, held on campus in the fall.

A national fraternity, Kappa Kappa Psi was founded in order to promote a better understanding and appreciation of music, and also to function as a service organization to the University of Maryland Band.

In addition to honoring those who have demonstrated excellence in their field, Kappa Kappa Psi presents annually an award to the one outstanding bandsman of the year.

Kappa Tau Alpha

IN THE SHORT two years of its existence on the Maryland campus, Kappa Tau Alpha has consistently worked for the recognition and promotion of scholarship in the field of journalism.

Kappa Tau Alpha taps into membership only students who are majoring in journalism and who are in the upper ten percent of their class.

A student must also have at least five semesters of academic credits in order to be eligible for membership.

In addition to actively promoting journalism on campus, each year Kappa Tau Alpha presents an award to the author of an outstanding piece of published research in journalism and mass communications.

M Club

MARYLAND ATHLETES who have earned the right to wear a varsity letter are honored by membership in the Varsity M Club. The organization was established at Maryland in order to bring together the outstanding leaders of all phases of University athletic activity to discuss ideas and plan programs for the betterment of the University's athletic program.

The M Club also serves to bring together the outstanding athletes of different sports to sponsor various social and service functions. Included in M Club's activities is active participation the Sophomore Carnival and pep rallies.

Maintaining close ties with alumni and faculty members is characteristic of the group's aim to keep up the Maryland sports tradition while ever seeking to improve the facilities and atmosphere for participation in athletic activity. Highlighting the club's activities in this connection is the annual Alumni-Varsity football game.

Since 1959, all M Club members wear their varsity letters on specially designed jackets, to give unique distinction to the sports club as a group.

Omicron Nu

HOME ECONOMICS majors who have demonstrated excellence in scholarship may be tapped for membership in Omicron Nu. At Maryland, the honorary demonstrates its belief in the importance of scholarship by presenting awards to promising underclassmen. Future plans of Omicron Nu include a local alumnae organization to keep interest in the various phases of home economics alive after graduation.

Phi Chi Theta

IT'S NO LONGER a man's world, according to the members of Phi Chi Theta, the women's business honorary.

Phi Chi Theta participates in many activities which serve to promote women in business, and stimulate interest in business careers. Included in the honorary's activities are programs sponsored for local high school students to publicize the University's business programs and opportunities.

Phi Eta Sigma

THE "HOW TO STUDY" programs sponsored by Phi Eta Sigma during each semester are presented through the "voice of experience," for each member of the honorary has attained either a 3.5 average for his first semester, or entire freshman year.

The freshman men's honorary strives to emphasize the importance of getting off to a good start scholastically, and aims to assist all freshmen to achieve this goal.

Phi Mu Alpha

PHI MU ALPHA Sinfonia, national professional music fraternity, is the world's largest fraternity in number of chapters. Members are in 202 chapters throughout the United States and all are active chapters because of their belief, "Once a Sinfonian, Always a Sinfonian."

The purposes of the fraternity are to advance the cause of music in America, to foster the mutual welfare and brotherhood of students of music, to develop the truest fraternal spirit among its members, and to encourage loyalty to the University.

Pi Delta Epsilon

BUDDING JOURNALISTS who have demonstrated distinguished achievement and promise as members of the staffs of the various University publications are invited to become members of Pi Delta Epsilon, the journalism honorary.

Pi Tau Sigma

MECHANICAL engineering students who have been honored by membership in Pi Tau Sigma strive to promote high ideals in the engineering profession and create interest in departmental activities.

DISTINGUISHED NAMES in the field of psychology highlights the lectures and discussion groups sponsored by Psi Chi, the psychology honorary.

Students who have evidenced ability and achievement in psychological work are eligible for membership in the honorary.

Sigma Alpha Eta

SIGMA ALPHA ETA awards membership to students working in the field of speech. Since its founding at Maryland, the honorary has worked to assist those who are in need of speech or hearing correction.

Sigma Alpha Iota

THE PURPOSE of Sigma Alpha Iota, the professional music fraternity, is to raise the standards of productive musical work among college women and to further the development of music in America.

During the school year, Sigma Alpha Iota sponsors two departmental parties and furnishes ushers for all musical productions held at the University.

Sigma Alpha Omicron

ESTABLISHED for the purpose of recognizing students exemplifying scholastic achievement in the field of microbiology, Sigma Alpha Omicron works to promote an awareness of the importance of scientific studies and research in microbiology and other branches of biological science.

A second purpose of the society is to professionally assist students who are interested in careers in microbiology, bacteriology, and related fields.

Requirements for membership include an overall academic average of 2.5, and at least twelve credits in microbiology and bacteriology.

Sigma Delta Chi

THE PROFESSIONAL journalism fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi, accepts into membership only those students who plan to follow a career in some phase of journalism following graduation.

The purpose of the fraternity is to bring together those male students who have made outstanding contributions to journalism at the University.

Sigma Pi Sigma

THE EMPHASIS is on studies in the physical sciences in Sigma Pi Sigma, the physics honor society.

Students who have attained distinction in scholarship on an overall basis, and who have evidenced interest, ability and achievement in their studies in physics, are honored by membership in Sigma Pi Sigma.

The members of the honorary are interested in promoting an awareness of the importance of physics in the Nuclear Age, for peacetime projects and research as well as defense. Sigma Pi Sigma works to stimulate interest in studies of physics, not only for those who plan to seek a career in related fields, but also for those pursuing other courses of study, as a valuable part of a well-rounded education.

Sigma Pi Sigma also sponsors various lectures and tutoring programs for students of physics.

Sigma Tau Epsilon

SIGMA TAU EPSILON honors the outstanding women in the Women's Recreation Association. Prospective members must demonstrate leadership and interest in the activities of the Association, and have earned at least a 2.5 overall academic average.

The purpose of Sigma Tau Epsilon is to encourage and to facilitate a wider participation in recreational activities among women students at the University, and to foster a more wholesome appreciation of leisure time activities on the part of the students.

Tau Beta Pi

MEMBERSHIP in Tau Beta Pi requires that a student engineer be in the top fifth of his senior class or in the top eighth of his junior class. In addition to scholarship, a Tau Beta Pi must possess exemplary character.

In recognition of outstanding service to the University, the Maryland Beta chapter was awarded National Honorable Mention for 1961-1962. This followed two previous "Outstanding Chapter Awards" awarded for the preceding two years. These awards recognize the many Tau Beta Pi sponsored projects throughout the year, such as the distribution of Freshman Information Booklets to freshman engineering students during Registration Week.

An engineering newspaper is published four times annually by the members of Tau Beta Pi. In addition, a scholarship fund was recently established to aid students in the College of Engineering, and during the past year, two students were awarded full tuition and fixed fees for an entire semester.

A highlight of the year was the presentation of two Women's Badges at the Fall Initiation Banquet. Although women are not permitted full membership in Tau Beta Pi, outstanding women engineers are presented these cherished awards. The badges were awarded to Annette C. Evans, a senior in Aeronautical Engineering, and Joan E. Roderick, a senior in Civil Engineering.

Tau Beta Sigma

TAU BETA SIGMA, the women's band honorary, honors those women who have made outstanding contributions to the Maryland, and has as its purpose the promotion of better interband relationships. Toward this aim, they sponsor many social functions during the year.

Tau Kappa Alpha

TAU KAPPA ALPHA honors those students who have distinguished themselves in intercollegiate debate and public speaking. In addition to scholastic requirements, a member must have two years of debate with a winning record to his credit.

TAU KAPPA ALPHA: Douglas R. Taylor, Paul S. Beatty, president: Wendell Wilke Wiener, vice-president.

Phi Kappa Phi

PHI KAPPA PHI recognizes and encourages superior scholarship among the students. Its membership is selected from the upper ten per cent of the graduating class.

Mortar Board

THE HIGHEST honor attainable by a coed at the University of Maryland is membership in Mortar Board, the national honorary which recognizes those senior women who have excelled in leadership, scholarship, character, and service to the University. The Maryland chapter of Mortar Board was established on campus in 1934 by recently retired Dean Adele H. Stamp.

The few women who are tapped for membership each spring exemplify Mortar Board's ideal of excellence, and are recognized as the most outstanding women on the University of Maryland campus.

Throughout the year, Mortar Board sponsors many campus-wide activities to encourage leadership and excellence in women of every class. Among their projects is included a "Smarty Party," sponsored by Mortar Board members to honor those freshmen women who have attained at least a 3.0 average.

In order to raise funds for the Campus Chest program, Mortar Board sponsors the annual Homecoming Mum Sale.

PROFESSOR OF AIR SCIENCE

Air Force ROTC

THE AFROTC program at Maryland is different this year from what it has been in the past. Mandatory participation in the program has been reduced from four semesters to two. The advanced program remains unchanged, but voluntary participation in the third and fourth semesters is a prerequisite for advanced standing. A total of 2,800 men are enrolled in AFROTC this year. Of these over 300 are taking the voluntary lower level courses and 155 are advanced cadets. The voluntary two-year advanced sequence builds on the first two years of military foundation and produces junior officers for the U.S. Air Force.

Arnold Air Society

THE ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY is a professional service organization which was established at the University of Maryland in 1950. Its objectives are: to promote American citizenship in an air age; to advance the support of air power: to further the purpose, mission, tradition and concept of the USAF for national security: and to create a closer and more efficient relationship within the AFROTC.

Scabbard and Blade

THE SCABBARD AND BLADE is a national honorary military society. Its purpose is primarily to raise the standard of military education at the University of Maryland: to encourage and foster the essential qualities of good and efficient officers: and to promote friendship and good fellowship among the cadet officers. Members have at least a 3.0 advanced ROTC average and a 2.5 overall average.

Vandenberg Guard

THE VANDENBERG GUARD is a military fraternity unique to Maryland. Designated as a squadron within the Corps of Cadets, it is one of the few sabre drill teams in the United States. Composed of a Trick Drill Team, a Precision Marching Unit and a Color Guard, the Vandenberg Guard has been a major contributor of cadet officers. It is named in honor of the late General Hoyt S. Vandenberg.

The Pershing Rifles

THE PERSHING RIFLES is a national military fraternity having units that are integral with ROTC programs throughout America. It was founded by the late John J. Pershing, general of the armies, in 1894. Maryland's unit dates back to 1934. Consisting of a Color Guard, a Trick Drill Team, a Precision Drill Team and Rifle Team, it participates in drill competitions in this area and in many nationwide drill meets.

Angel Flight

ANGEL FLIGHT is an auxiliary organization of the Arnold Air Society. Angels act as official hostesses of the University, present a talent show to benefit the campus chest and cosponsor the Military Ball.

ALESSIA PASSALACQUA is crowned queen of the Military Ball by Judi Stover, last year's queen.

Cadet Leadership Academy

THE CLA is a squadron within the Corps of Cadets whose function is to train effective and efficient leaders for active service in the University's AFROTC cadet corps. Organized in the spring of 1958, it was originally known as the Non-Commissioned Officer's Academy. After testing knowledge of drill and ceremonies and qualities of leadership, the Academy graduates the qualified cadets who then assume positions of leadership in the corps.

J. FOLEY, senior group commander, and J. Couchman, assistant deputy personnel director discuss attendance during a drill session in the armory.

A-TENN-HUT!

Cadets learn to fly . . .

... under supervision of Air Force pilots.

A SMALL but important part of ROTC training is the Flight Instruction Program. Instructions leading to a private pilot's license are given to seniors in the Advanced program planning to go into pilot training in the Air Force.

The course consists of 36½ hours in the air and another 30 hours of ground school designed to give a trainee the knowledge necessary to go along with the physical skills he learns in the air.

Students do all of their flying in radio-equipped Piper Colts—single-engine planes with a cruising speed of about 120 m.p.h. Most flights originate and land on an airport in Beltsville used solely by the FIP.

When a pilot trainee goes out to the airfield, there are some things he must learn before he squeezes into the plane with the instructor. He must make tests on the engine, propeller and stabilizer. Safety is stressed throughout the program. Much of the students' time in the air is spent making the basic turning and landing approaches necessary to get them safely on the ground again.

STEPHANIE smiles radiantly as she dances with her escort, Fulton Jeffers.

ENTERING an institution of higher learning may at first seem a bewildering experience, but the student is soon cognizant of its value. This University offers an opportunity to grow intellectually and culturally. It is important that the students develop a respect for his fellow students and more importantly, with his seniors.

Adaption to University social and academic life begins Orientation Week. Lectures are offered daily to familiarize the Freshmen with college routine. The Orientation Board also plans several dances including the Frosh Frenzy and Dink Debut to allow the new academician to relax before his first experience in a college classroom Monday morning. In the spring the Freshman Class sponsors two dances—the Sadie Hawkins Dance, where the girl must take the initiative, and the traditional Freshman Prom, highlighted with the crowning of the Queen.

Sophomore Class

*Aware, but yet unaware . . .
A year of growing*

"I HAVE everything: I have nothing." With freshman year just a memory and graduation still quite a distance away, sophomores take their place at Maryland as the ancient Greek "wise fools." Completing the basic curriculum with its numerous survey courses, these students have knowledge of the dilemmas of world history, the economics problems of business and the sociological, psychological, philosophical and zoological theories of mankind! Specifics must wait—following later as advancement in the academic arts proceeds with selection of a major.

Sophomore year holds many special extras for those returning to campus. Confidence replaces the confusion of those by-gone first days at a new and large University. Registration with its long never-ending lines, missing advisors and conflicting classes is accepted with humor and patience. The opportunity to take upper-level courses, the fun-filled Sophomore Carnival, the annual Prom, and the participation in activities as officers—are all pieces of the pattern of a second year student. As their ideas and initiative increases, a design of continuous variation is created with special shadings by the examples of those who had gone before them and their own sophomore experiences.

Frantic Antics

“THE MAGIC WORLD of Make-Believe” enveloped Maryland in an aura of festivity and excitement as the annual Sophomore Carnival began its one night stand. With each dorm, fraternity and sorority participating, students relived the days “when we were a couple of kids” with their cotton candy, colored balloons and cries of excitement. Medieval castles with ferocious dragons and witches, the slapstick humor of dousing by water buckets, the lonely silhouette of the barker drumming up business and the 20th century twist were all welcomed with the joy and enthusiasm of a carnival atmosphere.

*Mad moments of merriment

Junior Class

YEARS HAVE passed and left their trace of graver care and deeper thought. The University seems smaller now that the confusion of Freshman year and the "Sophomore slump" are past. Having dismissed thoughts suggesting an "easier way," the Junior Class has begun to assume the status of wisdom—enlarged views and enlargement of mind. Indication of this acuteness came as the Juniors initiated the annual Junior-Senior Bowl.

The expansive elegance of Indian Springs Country Club combined with the musical mastery of Glen Miller provided an atmosphere for an unforgettable Junior Prom.

Senior Class

THROUGH FOUR years of classes, hourlies, and finals a valiant few finally reach the lofty perch of SENIOR. Having accomplished the seemingly unattainable, these veteran survivors of at least three years of the academic and social swirl, greedily count the days remaining before the big one.

However, there are nuisances which must be tolerated by a graduating senior. He is expected to keep yearbook picture appointments, fill out diploma applications, and present himself to be fitted for a gown that resembles a black nightshirt, and a hat that resembles a cross between a shrunken square umbrella and a skull cap.

These too are endured, however, for every senior knows the end is in sight. What he doesn't realize is that it is just the beginning.

FOUR YEARS and this is all I get?

Senior Prom

WITH THE whirl of last classes, final exams, and academic "odds and ends" completed the Seniors relax at their prom and banquet held in the lavish Statler-Hilton Hotel in downtown Washington. The music of Buddy Morrow and his "Night Train" orchestra, along with vocalist Carol Knight provided the entertainment. The Ira Sabin band and singer Ann Read were also on hand to furnish dance music.

Outstanding class members were honored, as Who's Who Certificates and scholarship, athletic, and citizenship awards were distributed to the deserving many. It was an appropriate ending to a college career.

"YOU'LL DO O.K. All you have to do is remember — serve from the left and take away from the right."

RON GRUDZIECKI, Senior Class President, addresses his class for the last time.

"SHAKE MY HAND FIRST!" "No, shake mine first!"
Congratulations go all around.

MORE THAN 5000 outstanding Seniors were honored at the prom, (or at least it seemed that way).

KEN WAISSMAN and Phyllis Lee prepare to eat their last meal as Maryland students.

*For

The Star of David, symbol of Judaism wherever Jewish people are, represents one faith at the University of Maryland.

THE B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at Maryland functions from their house on Yale Ave. Rabbi Greenberg, who has directed and advised the group since 1945, and President Sarita Synder, help the Hillel Association achieve its goals of cultural, religious, and intellectual growth among Jewish students.

One of their foremost celebrations is that of "Succos," or Harvest Festival. This Feast of Tabernacles or Booths, as shown at right, stems from Biblical festivals. The pine covered roofing of the booth is adorned with multiple fruits and vegetables, and is the center for the celebration of this holiday by the University of Maryland Hillel students.

A simple cross has become a sign of faith for those who are Protestant.

MEETING TWICE monthly, the Chapel Staff discusses chapel policies and programs. Included in this group are representatives of all the offices located within the Chapel.

THE Student Religious Council at Maryland is composed of two representatives of each religious body with Barry Sklar at its presidency. Their monthly meetings are geared to foster understanding and coordination among all faiths. The Student Religious Council also sponsors the Religious Night held during Orientation Week.

The many religious activities at the University of Maryland show that college students feel strongly about the necessity of a faith. Every faith has regular meetings so that its members can not only strengthen their beliefs but, also, further their associations with those of similar beliefs. Their programs include counseling, worship, drama, and discussion.

THE METHODISTS participate in worship, discussion, recreation and service through the Wesley Foundation. Predominate among their activities is the Wesley drama group as shown.

THE STUDENT LUTHERAN group works together on various social activities and holds meetings in the Chapel bi-weekly. Representatives of their faith are always available for counseling, both formally and in relaxed atmospheres.

MARYLAND STUDENTS of the Episcopal Foundation meet at St. Andrews Church for communion services and informal discussions on topics of special interest. The students are led by Father Stevens.

The Episcopal group at St. Stephen and Incarnation Parish in Washington, D.C., hold an afternoon program of study and recreation for children with working parents.

THE WEST CHAPEL daily witnesses the students of Baptist faith who gather for noon-day devotions, under the guidance of Mr. Howard Rees and President Dorothy Ashley.

THE ISLAMIC ASSOCIATION at the University of Maryland is under the leadership of Ihsan Saib. The Islamic faith calls for devotions to Allah five times daily, facing Mecca. Those of Moslem beliefs are drawn from Iraq, Cyprus, Turkey, and other Eastern nations. They hold their services in houses of worship known as Mosques.

THE MARYLAND CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP is the interdenominational organization on campus which extends the opportunity to all students to unite hand and heart in a common bond of friendship. The production, at right, is A Sign of Jonah which was put on at American University, George Washington University, and the University of Maryland.

THE EASTERN ORTHODOX or Ethos religious group has grown steadily over the last few years and now composes the fourth largest faith represented at the University. The group incorporates Russian, Greek, Syrian and Ukranian Orthodoxies. Evelyn Koutsos, President, with advisors Dr. Paul Daston, Dr. George Anastos and Reverend John Tavlaridis direct and coordinate discussions and host many speakers.

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION

at the University has grown greatly over the last few years, now totaling close to fifty members. They meet weekly in the West Chapel for a short church service under their president, Edward Way.

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST, under president Denton Crews, weekly discuss questions and theories of their faith, hoping thereby to gain a deeper insight into their religion.

The crucifix symbolizes to Roman Catholics the sacrifice that Christ made upon the cross.

THE NEWMAN FOUNDATION endeavors to unite Catholic students on campus in their efforts to equate religious knowledge to other college courses. Projects include a philosophy class, an inquiry class, and a co-educational choir. This spring will see the breaking of the ground for the modern Newman Center which will house all of their numerous projects.

Cabinet

James Humphrey, Vice-President

Linda Cavin, Secretary

Woody Hancock, Treasurer

THE SGA Cabinet acts as the executive branch of the student government. It serves as the primary enforcer of every act passed by the legislative branch and every decision made by the judicial branch. Members of the cabinet, student-elected, represent segments of the campus. Many assume positions in other representative groups in order to coordinate cabinet work with the work of other functioning organizations.

Legislature

LEGISLATURE, the largest elected body on campus, represents the students in the government of the university. Each member of Legislature, elected by his class, serves on a standing committee of S.G.A., thus representing every phase of campus life. The Vice-president of S.G.A., speaker of Legislature, plays an important role in coordinating the work of Legislature with that of the Cabinet. Legislature is the blue-print of student opinion.

Finance

THE FINANCE Committee is responsible for approving and recommending budgets to legislature. It takes each budget and analyzes each figure to see if it is appropriate. If budget figures are not approved by the committee, the budget is revised. The budget is then sent to legislature to be approved.

Associated Women Students

THE ASSOCIATED Women Students is the governmental body for women on the campus. Officers are selected by general campus elections. Included in the ruling body are the president, vice-president in charge of sororities, and vice-president in charge of dormitories. In addition, a dormitory council, consisting of the presidents of all dorms, and a sorority council, consisting of presidents of all sororities, meet regularly. Committee chairmen and representatives from each class are also members.

This year's activities included an Orphan's Party and the Christmas Pageant. The Area Meeting of AWS was also held at Maryland University with fourteen schools represented to discuss problems relative to various campuses.

People to People

PEOPLE TO People, one of the newest organizations on campus, serves foreign students new at Maryland. Its members meet these incoming students, welcome them, and acquaint them with the different facets of university living. Through People to People, Maryland students come to understand foreign customs, and they, in turn, understand ours.

Men's League

THE MAIN purpose of the Men's League is to coordinate all men's activities on campus. Two activities sponsored by Men's League are the Leadership Banquet in the spring which honors all outstanding faculty, students, and especially the outstanding senior, and the more comical "No Shave Week."

The executive cabinet is composed of its officers and representatives from all classes, the Interfraternity Council, commuters, and the men's dorms. The president of Men's League automatically becomes a member of the Student Government Association's Cabinet.

Resident Men's Association

THE RESIDENT Men's Association represents all men living in dormitories on campus. It provides them with the opportunity to express problems arising among resident men and to formulate policies. Each men's dormitory is represented by its elected president. RMA's activities this year included an orientation program to welcome Freshmen men, in addition to an awards banquet honoring outstanding men and recognizing the dormitory of the year.

F. O. B.

THIS YEAR'S Freshman Orientation was the biggest success of all times. The Board itself consisted of four hundred students representing all classes, with a Sponsor's Committee and the Chairmen of events and committee members.

Thirty-six hundred freshmen participated in this program. Included in the activities sponsored were six academic assemblies, an All-University Night, President's Convocation, Freshmen Welcome Assembly, Pep Rally, Dink Sale, AWS and RMA activities, religious Night and the National Symphony. Special emphasis was placed on student government and elections, including political parties.

THAT'S what happens to freshmen!

Elections

THE ELECTION Committee is responsible for the general supervision of campus elections and also of the candidates' conduct. In order to run for an office, each student must submit a petition with fifty signatures, and then he must be approved by the dean of his college and the registrar.

Plans for this year's elections included use of voting machines and ballot boxes located at three central polling places.

A CANDIDATE explains her qualifications to an interested listener.

Homecoming

JUST A few more finishing touches!

BUNNY SMILES happily as she begins her reign.

VARIETY is the spice of life.

THIS OCTOBER brought one of the most unusual Homecomings ever. The typical fall weather kept everyone in good spirits and helped push our Terrapins to victory over the Gamecocks of South Carolina. The day was brightened by house decorations and fifteen floats, centered around the theme "Maryland Goes to the Movies," with Sigma Kappa, Dorchester and Chestertown receiving honors. The Greeks presented the most unique float—"the octopus-administration" strangling the fraternities. Halftime was highlighted by the crowning of this year's Homecoming Queen, AOPi's Bunny Little. Les Elgart and the Shirelles were the main attraction that evening at the homecoming dance. Decorations, game, and dance made this year's Homecoming a memorable one.

THE IFC constructed this unusual float.

Central Student Court

THE CENTRAL Student Court is composed of nine members selected from the Junior and Senior classes. Dr. Hodinko, the head of the Judiciary Office, is the advisor and this year's chief justice is Douglas Worrell.

Besides handling cases of original jurisdiction, the Central Student Court is the highest student appellate court. Only the Faculty Senate Committee or the President of the University can reverse a decision made by this court.

The student court meets bi-weekly on Tuesday night to hear cases. It can grant reprieves, reprimand students, or recommend counseling. The Court's procedures are based on the principle of preventative punishment.

Men's League Court

THE MEN'S League Court is the middle court at the University, below the Central Student Court and above the IFC and RMA Court. Having been in operation for two years, the court selects its seven members by previous members.

Men's League Court tries cases concerning student behaviour on campus, including traffic violations, fire regulations and theft on campus. It has the final appellate jurisdiction over decisions of any fraternity or residence-hall house judiciary.

Who's Who Committee

OUTSTANDING members of the junior class are represented on the Who's Who Committee. The chairman of the committee is a senior and must have served on the committee in the previous year. All of the students who serve on the committee must have a 2.2 overall average and they must be representative of a specific field—such as student government or athletics. The chairman of this year's committee is Rich Farrell.

Candidates for Who's Who are selected from a list of thirty-six people approved by a faculty and student committee.

Placement Bureau

THE PLACEMENT Bureau serves as the source of information on full-time job and career opportunities. It also is the student's source of contact with employers who are seeking college graduates for their full-time positions and for summer employment.

Each year it brings to the campus interviewers from over three hundred companies, agencies, schools and colleges who are recruiting students for employment. A library of information on employers and on major occupations is also provided. The student committee works with the faculty placement representative to insure maximum faculty student contact.

Away Weekend

FIFTEEN-HUNDRED students trooped to Penn State in the midst of snow and cold this year to participate in the Annual Away Weekend. After the 23-7 Nittany victory, some students trudged back home, but most remained to participate in the after-game parties and festivities.

CAMPUS CHEST was first organized ten years ago to stop private solicitations on campus. Now under the supervision of Dean Billings and Dean Florestano, in addition to its elected officers, Campus Chest derives its funds from private functions of sororities, fraternities, clubs, and dormitories on campus. The club itself also sponsors activities to raise money. This year's proceeds from the Ugly Man Contest, Sophomore Carnival, Homecoming Late Minutes, and College Casino went to support a foster child in Greece, student organizations throughout the world, and local charities. In particular, Campus Chest sends a great portion of its funds to the World University Service which sends supplies to underdeveloped areas of the world. Campus Chest, the charity organization of the University, is a great aid to foreign students, supporting many by allocating money to them in the form of scholarships.

PHI DELT'S entry in the Kite Flying Contest.

Cultural Committee

THE CULTURAL Committee brings a variety of entertainment to the student body and thus informs them of the media of entertainment available to them. The National Symphony, Ferrante and Teicher, Modern Jazz Quartet, Don Cossack Dancers, and Miriam Makeba are all a part of its program. A portion of each student's activity fee supports these activities. Students, faculty, and graduate students are admitted free to the programs.

FERRANTE and Teicher played exciting duets for the enjoyment of all.

Publications Board

THE Students' Publications and Communications Board meets monthly on the Maryland campus to interpret and set policy on the various student organs, through the advisory power of faculty and student representatives.

Mr. George Batka, chairman of the committee, coordinates eight student editors from different campus media and eight faculty members. This broad representative body gives equal voting power to students and faculty on all policy matters.

It appoints qualified students to the chief-executive positions on the publications, maintaining the highest professional standards for the media and sees that University policy and ideals are reflected in the publication and communication activities on campus.

Expression

ARTISTIC Expression—an important function on any university campus—has become bigger and better in the form of this revised 8½ by 11 inch campus magazine.

Expansion of the art and literary staffs, added coverage, more publicity and new forms of portfolios have contributed to an enthusiastic response for the publication.

Editor-in-Chief, Kathie Dewey, and art editors, Jack Dillinger and Stephanie Davis, have attempted to keep up with and to reflect the artistic activities which are being undertaken in the various departments by covering murals and exhibits in their magazine.

Let's not forget Tom Haughey, Business Manager, who put out two issues this year: one in January and one in May.

WMUC--The Campus Sound

WMUC, the radio voice of the University, has increased its broadcasting capacity this year to bring four times the information and enjoyment to the Maryland campus. New morning, longer afternoon and evening shows have brought the schedule up to a 70-hour week.

Shifting its previous emphasis from rock-and-roll music, WMUC now plays a variety of classical, popular and jazz as well as rock-and-roll. The new programs, "The Jazz Hour," "Broadway Show of the Week," "Folk Music Hour," "Comedy Time," and the "Classical Show" have enlivened the format. These new shows, added to such old favorites as the "Hall of Fame" and "Miss Midnight" give the station appeal to even the most discriminating tastes.

WMUC's target this year has been a 100% increase in news coverage. The world news, monitored from NBC, is presented on the hour from 6 p.m. to midnight; UPI headlines and campus news, every half hour.

A Sports Kaleidoscope and a Campus Roundtable are also featured, enabling students to listen to and participate in discussions of significant events.

1966 M Book

THE 1966 M-Book had a new face and a new format. Information was geared especially to the freshman and his problems with college orientation. Emphasis was placed on the administration, resident and Greek life, religion, athletics, and a glimpse into the University's heritage and traditions.

A new feature of this year's M-Book was a section on the different colleges, designed to acquaint the freshman with the various colleges.

Another feature was a section on the commuter and his role in campus life. Also included was a calendar of activities outlining the social and academic events of the year.

"Around the Town" was the theme of a section devoted to area places to dine, bus schedules, and sights to see.

This year's co-editors, Fran Horowitz and Karen Sander, with their staff of eight, worked throughout the summer to have the new M-Book ready for fall orientation. They added drawings to liven up the book and redesigned the cover with a picture of the TERRAPIN in place of the customary design.

TERRAPIN

... the 1964 staff will meet today in room 307 of the Journalism Building at midnight.

VOL. LV NO. 44

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND — COLLEGE PARK

MONDAY, MAY 6, 1963

DBK Under New Plan

DBK Broadens: New Jobs, Pay

The end of this year finds the Diamondback settling down after a series of decisive changes in administration, supervision, and policy.

Executives of the Diamondback staff received increased pay for their efforts . . . nothing that would steal them from the New York Times staff, but a measure of compensation.

Professor Jimmy Bedford replaced Dr. Earl Newson as the faculty adviser to the Diamondback. Jack Prial became the Editor-in-Chief of the newspaper.

A new title was added to the staff diagram, that of coordinator. This person has the important job of gathering all the news that goes into the Diamondback. Not much goes into the newspaper without first passing under the eye of the coordinator. The position of managing editor was expanded to include make-up of the front pages. One staff replaced the four separate news staffs.

As always, the journalism classes added their bit to the Diamondback in addition to the regular staff. The Journalism 11 classes wrote for the newspaper, the Journalism 165 class developed features for it, the Journalism 160 classes helped edit it, the Journalism 181 classes photographed for it.

PENSIVE about his next editorial is Jack Prial, the Editor-in-Chief of the Diamondback. In addition to writing editorials, Jack supervises all the work done on the paper. Unfortunately Jack was injured in an automobile accident in January, but Jean Smith ably filled his position.

Bedford Era . . .

THIS year, the Diamondback saw the start of the Bedford era. Beginning with the Registration issue, the bushy red mustache of Jimmy Bedford, assistant professor Journalism, became a familiar sight at Diamondback deadlines.

Every issue caught Prof. Bedford's scrutinizing glance and found its way, with numerous corrections and comments, (always with a chuckle), tacked up on the wall of the Diamondback office. Here it haunted the staff and subtly induced them to work a little harder next week.

Always willing to give advice and aid to his "little children" on the staff, Mr. Bedford became a familiar sight on campus, riding his motor scooter or bicycle in an effort to gather some information that a staff reporter overlooked.

DBK MAKE-UP EDITORS—Standing: Pam Leef, Jerry Bayne, and Dennis O'Neil. Seated: Ken Heinen.

CHECKING A STORY on the phone is DBK Coordinator, Bev Macht. Seated is Managing Editor, Jean Lineberry.

COPY CHIEFS and editorial researchers are Donna Ellenson, Sheila Burke, Joan Stern, and Merriam Lofgren. Absent is Steve Dubnoff.

SPORTS STAFF—Skip Brown, Bruce Lawrence, Doug Gould, Stew Baird, Seated is Russ Potts.

A high point in this year's Diamondback has been the high-spirited editorials written by Editor-in-Chief Jack Prial and staff.

This year, the editorial subjects ranged from fraternity and sorority rush, basketball, and University housing to Hillel's Kosher Food plan and the social life on the Penn State campus. Even the new dance craze, the Fruge, did not escape his eye.

Although an editorial is by nature more subjective than a news story, it still demands thorough research and presentation of all sides. Any major stand taken by the Editor-in-Chief is taken after consultation with the rest of the editors. The Editor-in-Chief, as chief, may take a minority stand if he signs the editorial, thus assuming full responsibility. Editorials written by others on the staff must be signed.

STANDING BEHIND News Editor, Judy Disney, is her staff, Michelle Kalman, Judy Favier, and Marie Howell.

BUSINESS STAFF—Sam Berkowitz, Margie Knox, Marie Howell, and Business Manager, Shelly Saidman.

ADS AND PICTURES are pasted into place on the newspaper page "dummy."

A LINOTYPE operator set the copy into lines of metal type.

THE LINES of type are locked into a "chase" and then rolled with ink for a first proof.

A NEGATIVE of two pages is touched up to eliminate imperfections when the newspaper comes off the press.

Press Time DBK

GETTING an issue of the Diamondback to the presses involves more than the writing, rewriting and editing that are newsroom procedure each night in the Journalism building. The printing is handled by the Stromberg Press in Ellicott City, Maryland.

FINISHED PRODUCT

PRINTER PUTS plate on press (far left). After printing, the newspaper is folded as it comes off the press.

CO-EDITOR, Emory Kristof and copy chief Grace Wassmer.

This year more emphasis is being given to photography, particularly to picture stories based on some aspects of campus life which the students may not be as familiar with, such as the University Hospital on the Baltimore campus, President Elkins, drama wing, and the away football trips. Extensive use of action shots and trick photography are displayed in an effort to create a more imaginative and interesting yearbook.

The metal inlay cover depicting a terrapin orbiting the earth in a Mercury capsule represents the universality of education in an age in which education could mean the survival for the free world. Emphasizing a world-wide university, the editors and staff present to you a vivid account of the school year in the 1963 TERRAPIN.

Terrapin

UNDER the leadership of Emory Kristof and Carol Gebert, Co-Editors-in-Chief of the yearbook, construction of the 1963 TERRAPIN began a year ago last spring. Working diligently throughout the year, the editors with their staff of five Associate Editors and twenty-four Section Editors burned the midnight oil many nights in order to meet specific deadlines. Under the excellent guidance of Mr. Bedford, the TERRAPIN advisor, the staff conquered their problems and sent the final layouts to the printer in April.

DEATH OF A SALESMAN

"WHYNT YOU HAVE another drink, honey?"

UNIVERSITY Theatre's dramatic production Death of a Salesman, ended last season on a high note. Arthur Miller provided a tense plot involving an aging father and his problem sons. In desperation, Willie Loman, knowing his life had been a failure, made a last fatal attempt to reconcile his mistakes.

Under the direction of Herb Rodgers, the play left a lasting impression.

THE LADY'S NOT FOR BURNING

CHRISTOPHER FRY'S comedy, The Lady's Not For Burning, told the tale of a beautiful but beguiling seductress. The play had a plot of opposites—a woman condemned to death who wanted to live and a man so sick of life that he wanted to die. Fate brings them together, and they solve their problems by helping each other and fighting against the prejudices of society.

The story is set in medieval England and is highly strung with drama, comedy and romance. A goose stuffed in the drinking water, a prudish mother of two boys, the chaplain's violin that is forever being misplaced, an elopement just before a big party—all add to the enjoyment of the audience. In the background is the constant sniffing of the senile mayor.

Direction was by Herb Rodgers.

ST. JOAN

THE HISTORICAL patron saint, Joan of Arc, was reborn in the University chapel when University Theatre recalled for its audience the dramatic life of George Bernard Shaw's St. Joan.

Joan was condemned for heresy and burned at the stake. She came from the small village of the Vosges to live a short but heroic life.

Joan was a farm girl from a poor family. Her prophecies and dialects led her to be called by many "the most notable Christian warrior saint."

Dr. Rudolph Pugliese directed the drama.

An Evening of Modern Dance

“AN EVENING of Modern Dance” was presented through the cooperation of the modern dance clubs and University Theatre to delight the campus with serious and hysterical comedy dance routines.

Dances included the partial comedy, Bus Ride. Co-choreographers were Kathy Moore and Mary Speirschnider.

A highlight of the evening was Cliff White's happy lilt to Little Women. The dance shifted to a feeling of deep sadness when Beth died.

Filling the air to accompany the dancers was the music of Dave Brubeck and Webern. Emilio Del Roscuio, a concert pianist who has performed at Carnegie Hall, played at the concert and accompanied some of the dances.

The annual modern dance concert was under the direction of Mrs. Miriam Rosen and Miss Mary Harrington.

Flying Follies

FLYING FOLLIES, a United States Armed Forces variety group at the University, presented Entourage, an original musical written and directed by Frank Tudisco, a Maryland alumnus.

This was the first original musical to be presented on campus. The theme revolved around a European tour secretly plotted by two private schools, Periwinkle Polytechnical Institute, a boys' school, and Hellsley College, the girls' school.

The comedy is packed with a variety of scenes which take its audience through Moscow, France, and back to the United States.

Original songs written by Follies members include Big Ben, Bubbling Waters, and Tiny Little Tea Leaves. The atmosphere was provided by individual and choral songs, dance numbers, and a band. Scenery, costumes, lighting, and make-up were done by Follies members.

University Theatre

MONTHS of preparation—making costumes, working on lights, publicity, selling tickets, directing, rehearsals, rehearsals, and more rehearsals—and then the magic moment of opening night. University Theatre is an exciting adventure for the students who participate, the faculty who direct, and the audience who sees the finished production.

The U.T. agenda for this season included five shows—Paint Your Wagon, The Lady's Not For Burning, Saint Joan, An Evening of Modern Dance, and Ten Nights in a Bar-Room. This billing produced two firsts. The musical

Paint Your Wagon was the first show to be presented in the newly renovated Ritchie Coliseum and Saint Joan was the first U.T. performance given in the Chapel.

Membership is attained when a student has worked on two productions as an actor or crew member and completed ten hours of construction or costuming. With Dr. Rudolph Pugliese as adviser, the organization had Mary Madigan as president, Jeff Bell as vice president, Ival McDermott as secretary, Carole Levinson as business manager, and Barbara Levin as publicity manager.

THIS COSTUME designer makes the hems for Paint Your Wagon longer than the latest Paris style.

Hey! Get Up!

*Maryland's actors on wheels
hit the road*

IN COLLEGE PARK, 11 Drama Wing performers crowded into a nine-passenger station wagon with make-up kits, cards and books — necessities for long trips. This 70 mile trip was made to Boonsboro, Maryland to present Tomorrow Is A Day to Boonsboro High School students.

Getting sleep was the group's objective as they traveled. Upon awakening, they became the characters in their play concerning the insecurities of a 15-year old girl.

The performers stopped at the historic battlefield of Antietam before returning to College Park and their studies.

DRAMA WING members Trudy Anderson, Arie Slot and Elliott Tucker seem to have their ears closed to Mr. Starcher's words.

THE DIRECTOR of Drama Wing, Thomas E. Starcher, yells over his shoulders to wake his tired actors.

CAROL HISSEY plays the role of Louise in Tomorrow Is A Day. Her obnoxious brother is Elliott Tucker and Carolyn Kluckhuhn is her mother.

Acting out problems

AFTER THE PLAY, Mr. Starcher turns from directing to photography.

FROM COLLEGE PARK to all points north, south, east and west in Maryland and out to Arkansas and Missouri, the Drama Wing has logged in 300 performances and approximately 16,000 miles since it began in 1957.

Drama Wing is the only dramatic service fraternity in the United States. Through the presentation of plays, these thespians try to aid the parents and students to gain a better insight into the behavior of parents to their children and children to their parents and others. Education as well as entertainment is the goal of their performances.

Following the play, Mr. Starcher leads a discussion period. The topics of these discussions are drawn from the incidents presented in the play.

Civic organizations, parent-teacher associations and various religious and psychology groups book the Drama Wing to perform almost a year in advance.

ALL WENT well and Mr. Starcher, Kathy Sheehan and Carolyn Kluckhuhn enjoy a good joke on the way home.

MR. STARCHER takes a few moments beforehand to introduce the characters and the play to the high school students.

JUDY LANIER, as the sympathetic schoolteacher, tries to build Louise's ego by giving her the compliments and encouragement she needs.

DRAMA WING players take time out to grab a bite to eat before their matinee performance at Boonsboro.

RARELY DO any players get left behind, but this time Kathy Sheehan and Carolyn Kluckhuhn did, so they try to hitch a ride from Antietam.

A hectic schedule

IN APRIL, Drama Wing performers traveled to Arkansas and Missouri to introduce the idea of the theater group to the universities there. The same nine-passenger station wagon that carried them through Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia took the players to the South and Mid-West. If these schools adopt the idea, Drama Wing will become a national fraternity.

Judy Lanier, president, won the 1962-63 "Louie" award for having contributed the most to Drama Wing, based on the number of performances made and miles traveled. In this year's play, Tomorrow Is A Day, Judy played five roles.

Drama Wing averages 50 performances a year, scheduling them two nights a week and occasionally in the afternoon for high school students.

Women's Chorus

DILIGENT REHEARSAL before the concert.

THE MAJORITY of the musical selections that the Women's Chorus gave in concert this year were contemporary. "This type of music is very exciting to sing," said one member of the group. It is also very impressive to the concert-goer who hears it performed for the first time. At the annual Christmas concert given in the chapel with the Men's Glee Club, the chorus sang contemporary music by Gsonka. Another Christmas selection written by Robert Parris, a member of the University faculty, was Hymn of the Nativity. Later in the year Prince Igor was given with the University Symphony Orchestra. One of the most interesting compositions ever done by the Women's Chorus was Cartulli Carmina by Orff. In the spring the group sang with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, at the Music Educators Conference at Frostburg, and at Bethesda Chevy Chase High School.

THE REPETOIRE of the Men's Glee Club, ranging from Bach to Broadway, varies as much as the colleges of the students who make up the group. The musical activity for this year began with a concert given before the National Cultural Program telecast. Then came the annual Christmas Concert at the Chapel and what has become an annual appearance at the Pan American Union on its widely broadcast Christmas Concert series. Among the many other performances this year were a spring Pops Concert, a concert tour of Maryland high schools, and entertainment at several banquets.

Many of the group's concerts are given in conjunction with the Women's Chorus. Both groups are under the direction of Mr. Paul Traver. Anyone who has been on the fourth floor of the library on a Thursday afternoon, has probably heard the combined choirs in rehearsals.

Chapel Choir

CHOIR COEDS in informal rehearsal.

THE ONE HUNDRED and eighty member Chapel Choir, under the able direction of Mr. Fague Springmann, can be heard singing on Mondays and Wednesdays in the Chapel as they diligently practice for the many concerts they give throughout the school year. Besides singing their beautiful rendition of The Creation by Haydn and The Elijah by Mendelssohn for this year's Thanksgiving Concert, the Chapel Choir also sang Handel's The Messiah at their annual Christmas concert. During the second semester the Chapel Choir sang with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra in a performance of Mahler's Second Symphony. Other outstanding highlights of the year included singing in the campus Spring Concert, and at the Baccalaureate and Commencement services. The president of the group is Judy Matthews and Dr. Mary DeVermond, a member of our music department, is the accompanist.

DRESSED IN Elizabethan costumes and surrounded by an appropriate setting a quartet of the Madrigal Singers give a moving performance.

Madrigal Singers

THE MADRIGAL SINGERS is a closely-knit group made up of students from all colleges here at the University. Their performances are enhanced by the beautiful Elizabethan costumes which were designed and made by the Home Economics Department.

At Christmas time the Madrigal Singers sang on a nationwide color television broadcast, "Noels in Art and Song" and also did a number of programs on a local television station. During the month of January they appeared each Sunday on the "Great Choirs of America" radio program. Their spring season also included a tour of the Eastern Shore and two concerts at William and Mary College.

Marching Band

ON THE FIELD across from Montgomery Hall, the one hundred and fifty members of the Marching Band practice twice a week during the early months of the fall semester. Maryland's band is the only band in the Atlantic Coast Conference that presents both pre-game and half-time shows incorporating fancy drill routines and music set to various themes. In keeping with the "Late Movie" theme of the 1962 Homecoming, the Marching Band presented a late-late show playing such selections as Rock Around the Clock, and Dragnet.

Spring Music

MUSIC FILLS the air on a spring evening as the Concert Band performs its traditional "Concert on the Mall." Under the direction of Dr. Hubert Henderson these musicians, who have been selected from the Marching Band especially to present concert numbers, perform about four times each year. By bringing some of the finer pieces of band music to this campus, they entertain the study-worn and offer to all the soothing charms of music.

THE CONCERT BAND brings musical variety to the spring-minded campus.

MUSICIAN PRACTICES the fine art of divided attention.

Hootenanny

WITH FOLKSINGING continuing to grow in popularity throughout the country, the "do-it-yourselfers" at Maryland grabbed their banjos and guitars and ran to the hootnannies held at the Student Union. Everyone was welcome to come and sing, and those performing often had a following of friends to root for them. Others came to sing along or just to see what a hootenanny was all about. Crowds numbering in the hundreds heard bearded musicians sing love ballads, trios entertain with rousing renditions of John Henry or M.T.A., and comedians change the pace with I Had a Chicken. The hootnanny added a new and lively note to the entertainment on campus this year.

Accounting Club

EVEN WITH the incorporation of IBM machines into the business world today, there is still a need for accounting majors who are well educated in their field. To help them get practice in principles and all the professional help possible, the Accounting Club combines mathematics with recreation.

Membership is open to majors and all students interested in the different phases of the business world as seen from the accountant's viewpoint. Meetings are held jointly with Beta Alpha Psi, the accounting honorary fraternity, at which speakers from public accounting, industry, and government are heard. Field trips, movies, and other interesting activities are also offered.

Agricultural Council

THE MAIN link between the various clubs and organizations in the College of Agriculture is the Agricultural Student Council. This coordinating body is composed of members elected from each of the individual agricultural clubs. Events to remember were the fall barbeque, despite the torrents of rain; the spring convocation featuring outstanding speakers in agriculture; and the Ag Weekend with its contests and games, all sponsored by the Agriculture Council.

Agronomy Club

INDIVIDUALS sharing common interests in the professional fields of crops and soils, exchange ideas and information in the meetings of the Agronomy Club. The main event this year sponsored by the Agronomy Club and the Department of Agriculture was the Eastern Regional Soil Judging Contest. The monthly showcase and newsletter are also annual projects. Meetings are held bi-monthly in H. J. Patterson Hall and feature movies and speakers.

AIEE-IRE

THE LARGEST national engineering organization is AIEEIRE, which decoded means the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and Institute of Radio Engineers. This active group scheduled field trips, including one to Patuxent Naval Air Station, and speakers once a month, including one from N.A.S.A., as a part of its program. AIEE IRE is open to all engineering students who are sophomores or above and places emphasis on the maintenance of high technical and ethical standards among its members.

Alpha Phi Omega

“DO YOU have any books to sell? If so Alpha Phi Omega will be glad to sell them for you.” APO, a national fraternity, is characterized by unselfish campus and area service. The Maryland Chapter, founded in 1948, continues the high goals of the fraternity and this year was host to the APO regional convclave. They are proud to claim as brothers President John F. Kennedy, J. Edgar Hoover, Dr. Wilson H. Elkins and Dean Eppley.

In addition to the booksale some of the many projects of the fraternity include the sponsoring of the Ugly Man on Campus Contest and the Penny Mile during Campus Chest Week, the Well Project, coke sales at the Sophomore Carnival, the Pan-Hell Union Dance, and Campus Casino. Also the brothers ushered for National Symphony Concerts and University Theatre productions, and guarded for the State Science Fair.

Amateur Radio Club

“THIS IS W3EAX, College Park, Maryland.” Terrapin “hams” contact radio enthusiasts all over the world on their club station. The Amateur Radio Club is organized for the purpose of fellowship, exchange of ideas and the conducting of classes for aspiring licensees. Meetings are held bi-weekly and all members have access to the station and club-room facilities in the basement of Annapolis Hall. The Amateur Radio Club cordially invites anyone who is interested in “ham” radio communication, whether or not he has his own set, to join their membership only by showing an appreciable interest in this fascinating media.

American Chemical Society

INITIATED on campus four years ago, the student affiliates of the American Chemical Society work to promote the chemical profession by arranging a program of technical speakers. Lecture topics include recent chemical innovations and career opportunities for chemistry majors after graduation.

AMERICAN CHEMICAL ASSOCIATION—Thomas Roginski, Evelyn Stone, secretary; Christine Svrbely, vice-president; Daniel Boyd, president.

Am. Mech. Engineers

ARE YOU mechanically minded? At its regularly scheduled meetings this year, the American Mechanical Engineers, a branch of the National Society of Mechanical Engineers, enjoyed films, speakers from industry, and open forums. The club was also kept busy in its capacity as joint sponsor of the engineering professional and honorary committee on professional development. Through this organization, mechanical engineers have an opportunity to stimulate their technical competence.

Am. Physics Institute

BUILDING a radio telescope was the main project of the American Physics Institute this year. Other elements of the organization's program include lectures on current research areas in physics and co-sponsored tours by both the Maryland club and the physicists of other universities. The main purpose of the organization is to stimulate more interest in the science of physics outside of the classroom at the University of Maryland.

Aqualiners

COLORED lights on the water set the scene for the annual Aqualiners water extravaganza held March 28, 29, and 30. "Over the Rainbow," the theme for this year's production, was carried through in clever routine, beautiful costume and lights. Blue Indigo, Greensleeves, and Moulin Rouge can be remembered as notable acts.

Aqualiners is composed of strong swimmers who are able to learn skills quickly and accurately. Under the capable leadership of Podie Bedel, president, the main goal of the organization, the achievement of grace and skill in synchronized swimming, has been realized. Each semester try-outs and eliminations are held to determine which swimmers are most qualified for the vigorous training and practicing ahead. Then, every Tuesday and Thursday night in Preinkert Field House the group practices for several hours. All choreography, costumes, and scenery used in productions is made by the members of the group. During the year, demonstrations are held for various area groups.

FIELD TRIPS, films, demonstrations, and parties, including a Halloween Hootenanny, captivated members of the newly organized Art League. This active club also held their second annual Exhibition, awarded nearly $200 in prizes, and sponsored a major symposium on the creative process. Its mimeographed bulletin was expanded into an eight-page, six issue publication called Accent on Art which featured silk screening and a hand-printed etching as its cover. This provided the fifty members and associates with one source of information on program news, exhibitions, and area activities, and marked the beginning of an original print collection.

Besides furnishing stimulation and supplemental knowledge, the League plays an important role in increasing the recognition of creative arts at Maryland.

Block & Bridle

HAVE YOU ever seen a girl milk a cow? Each year the co-ed milking contest sponsored by the Block and Bridle Club draws crowds of curious spectators. Other projects during the year include showing and student judging by members interested in animal and dairy husbandry.

Calvert Debate

“I’D LIKE to say this about that.” The Calvert Debaters have plenty to say about everything, especially this year’s debate topic: “Resolved that the non-communist nations of the world should establish an economic union.” This year the group travelled from NYU to South Carolina bringing home a winning record.

MARYLAND students interested in gaining an understanding of the oriental culture will find attendance at Chinese Club meetings interesting and rewarding. Primarily a social group, the Chinese Club aims to promote closer relations between Chinese students and offer them the benefits of campus life.

Dairy Science

NOVELTY MILK flavors and experimental nice cream fantasies are nothing new to dairy minded students. Among their more serious projects, the Dairy Science Club assisted in hosting a meeting of 2100 scientists and educators from 49 states and 40 countries who gathered at the Maryland campus for the 57th annual meeting of the American Dairy Science Association. The club also participated in Ag Weekend and sponsored a faculty-student picnic for all members of the Dairy Dept. and their families.

Free State Party

“F.S.P. IN '63” was seen on many posters during the spring political elections as the Free State Party campaigned again for the votes of the students. Free State, organized in 1956, is the largest political party on campus and is composed of men’s and women’s dorms, sororities, fraternities and independent day-dodgers. In the past election, Free State won the offices of SGA President, Secretary, presidents of the Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman, classes among others.

Gamma Sigma Sigma

THE COED version of A.P.O. is Gamma Sigma Sigma, the service sorority which assists various organizations on campus in carrying out cultural and charitable activities. Their projects include ushering at campus events, operating concession stands, and helping to support a foreign orphanage. Membership is open to all women students interested in furthering the sorority’s purpose of serving the school, community, and country.

Gymkana

TRIPS TO York, Pa., Atlantic City, Frostburg, and numerous area high schools, highlighted the activities of the Gymkana Troupe this year. With 52 traveling performers, the group sported the biggest company in its history. Every day members could be seen practicing their acts in Cole Activities Building, as there was a performance almost every week. The season was climaxed by the Home Show held for the campus in April.

Organized somewhat like a fraternal group, pledges are taken in the fall and trained. They must attend at least ten meetings and participate in three-fourths of the shows for one semester. If they maintain a 2.0 average and are accepted by the members, they are an official Troupier.

Social events include an annual banquet at which awards are given to the best acts and performers, and a picnic which ends the season. The Best Act of 1962 was awarded to the Men's Triple, Bill Riley, George Kramer, and Bob Walker. Best Troupier Awards went to Bill Riley and Jean Nichols.

Home Ec. Club

THE PROCESS of becoming a modern homemaker has become more complex. The Home Economics Club, affiliated with the National Home Economics Association, keeps the students in the department informed of current trends and opportunities in their field. This year the club has sponsored a foreign graduate student in Home Economics, and planned many programs with professional speakers, demonstrations and fashion shows.

Indian Club

PRIMARILY A social organization, the Indian Student Association proports to unite the Indian students at Maryland in a fellowship and to foster relations with other students at the University. The club welcomes interested students and faculty members to its meetings which are interesting and informative. Through the club the Indian students gain valuable knowledge of the U.S. and college life.

Institute of Aero-Space Science

“DID YOU hear about the X15?” You can be sure that you’re talking to a member of the Institute of Aero-Space Science if you here this comment! Activities for the year included a trip to the Goddard Space-Flight Center and numerous lectures by prominent speakers. Members are required to have sophomore standing and a good academic average.

Institute of Chemical Engineers

AS THE demand for engineers continues to grow in this country, naturally more attention is fixed on our future industrial researchers and field workers. Professional attitudes in engineering are stimulated by the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. Participation in panel discussions, listening to speakers, and trips to industrial plants help to fulfill the informative purpose of the club and provide the members with an opportunity to be part of their chosen field while still studying.

International Club

INTERNATIONAL flavor and world-wide variety are offered to each of us in the International Club—a gathering place for American and foreign students on the University of Maryland campus. Highlighting the club's calendar is the annual International Fiesta, while during the rest of the year the members are kept busy with holiday parties, country nights, cultural gatherings, field trips and social events. The club is now working in association with the SGA People-to-People program which is placing a greater emphasis on the foreign students in all phases of campus living.

Marketing Association

THE BUSINESSMEN of tomorrow are the college men of today. The Marketing Association is set up to assist these future businessmen while in college and help them to become more acquainted with the many phases of marketing. Locating job opportunities for its members and consulting with businessmen prominent in the field are part of the group's activities. The objectives of the Marketing Association in sponsoring collegiate chapters is two-fold. First, it is to encourage students to choose a career within the field of marketing and second, to stimulate interest and encourage scholarship of students presently in the marketing curriculum.

Modern Dance Club

“AN EVENING with Modern Dance,” the annual concert given by the Modern Dance Group is only one of the many performances for which the members practice. Demonstrations to faculty wives, participation in University Theatre productions, symposiums, WRA functions and workshops also keep the dancers busy.

The qualifications for membership include technique, basic composition, and interest. The members of the club maintain a high level of technical and choreographic contribution, although no experience is necessary to join the beginning group. For the advanced group, try-outs are held and the dancers work to develop creative and graceful dance forms.

Nursing Club

FUTURE "Florence Nightingales" can be found at Maryland in the Louisa Parson's Nursing Club. This organization seeks to help young women in the nursing field to grow professionally and culturally through the many activities it plans. This year's program included speakers, movies, trips and parties.

Old Line Party

IN THE few years of its existence, the Old Line Party has reached a position where its candidates now hold a majority of the offices in student government. During the past year they have more than fulfilled their dual purpose of nominating and supporting the best candidates for campus offices and promoting student interests and extra-curricular activities.

Olympic Barbell Club

PHYSICAL fitness, in keeping with President Kennedy's program, is the key phrase of the Olympic Barbell Club.

Composed of men interested in personal health and well-being, they travel to other colleges to compete.

Physical Therapy Club

ABABY organization on campus, started in 1961, the Physical Therapy Club includes all majors in the field in its membership. Its purpose is to create interest in the subject on campus. Activities planned are trips, projects and lectures.

Psychology Club

THE PSYCHOLOGY Club is composed of students who have a major or minor in Psychology. The purpose of the club is to broaden the student's knowledge of the various fields within this science and of its applications. The club offers lectures by the Psychology Department, faculty, and other prominent members in the field. They also hold discussion groups and go on field trips.

Sigma Alpha Omega

A NEW GROUP this year Sigma Alpha Omega is composed of men interested in hunting, fishing and wild life in general. During hunting and fishing seasons contests are held and the most proficient members rewarded. During the school year members confine their activities to the East Coast and in summer a trip to Colorado is planned.

S.A.M.

BUSINESS-Minded? The members of the Society for Advancement of Management certainly are! During the year activities are planned to broaden the members' outlooks on the field of management. This year roundtables, service projects, conferences and speakers are planned.

Fire Protection

PROMINENT speakers in the field of fire prevention and protection further the understanding of the members of the Society of Fire Prevention on their specialities. Active participation in the group is promoted by numerous activities such as engineering displays, and social gatherings.

Sociology Club

LIKE TO people watch . . . interested in people? The Sociology Club is for those students who are majoring and minoring in the field of sociology. The purpose of the club is to promote sociological point of view among interested Maryland students. To accomplish this purpose, the club holds problem discussions and has lectures by outstanding people in sociology and other related fields.

Spanish Club

THE SPANISH Club offers many exciting and worthwhile activities to those students interested in the language. This year included trips to El Centro Anglo Espanol embassies, slides and films of Spanish speaking countries, a visit to the Mexican restaurant La Fonda, and trips to see Spanish films. The club participated in the Experiment in International Living and also heard speakers from the university and from embassies.

Sports Car Club

THE STEADY PURR of an engine and the thrill of shifting into fourth gear are probably never more appreciated than by a member of the Sports Car Club. The club was established in 1960 for the purpose of promoting interest in sports car competition and maintenance among Maryland students. Ownership of a sports car is not a prerequisite for joining the club. All that is required is a demonstrable interest in cars and car mechanics. Every year, members attend auto crosses, rallies, and maintenance sessions. The club also trains drivers for all types of competition.

CAR 54 comes in to win in its class.

AUTOCROSS drivers race against time.

DRIVER WATCHES intently hoping no one will beat his time.

Student Union Board

A RELATIVELY new group, the Student Union Board helps coordinate and plan the activities taking place in the Student Union. It is composed of seven members who hold the following offices: Overall Chairman, Secretary, Treasurer, Cultural Ch., Social Ch., Publicity Ch., and Intercollegiate Relations Ch. Each member has people working under him drawn from the central Student Union Committee.

The Board positions are filled through an apprentice system. After the interested student signs for a committee and works for one semester he is eligible for membership on the Board.

This year the group was mainly concerned with setting precedents and formulation policy for the coming years. A recently completed constitution and active, interested members give promise of dynamic programs in the future.

Terrapin Ski Club

THE THRILL of skiing down snow-covered slopes and ascending to the top again on the ski lift for the re-run is an experience which the members of the Ski Club can fully appreciate. The purposes of the Ski Club are to promote and stimulate an interest in skiing among the students of the University, to teach skiing to interested members, and to take ski trips which promote intercollegiate competition.

Early in September, skiers prepare for the season by watching movies, hearing talks, and studying demonstrations of techniques and equipment.

When snow falls, members travel to West Virginia and Pennsylvania for the real thing. Their major event for the year was their ski trip to the slopes of New Hampshire over semester break.

Terrapin Trail Club

IS YOUR first love "the great outdoors?" If so, the Terrapin Trail Club would appeal to you and to anyone else desiring to encourage and promote interest in outdoor activities. Through companionship of other students who have similar interests, the club promotes the advancement of knowledge in hiking, camping, climbing, spelunking, and other related areas.

This past fall the active hikers scaled Old Rag Mountain, Virginia, and went on a cabin trip to Scientists Cliff, Maryland, as club sponsored events. Members also went on five caving expeditions in Virginia and West Virginia. A joint hike with the Ski Club through Shenandoah National Park, Virginia, and an Appalachian Trail hike near Waynesboro, Virginia, rounded out the year's events.

Spelunking

IN THEIR TRAVELS, some members of the Terrapin Trail Club go spelunking, or cave exploring. This year the group went through several caves, one of which was Grapevine Cave, in West Virginia.

After brushing up on their rope-climbing from the rafters of Cole Field House, the group packed their camping equipment, slept outside with snow on the ground, and spent their weekend going to and from and in and out of the muddy and beautiful cave.

One of the more dangerous parts of the trip was entering the cave. The entrance was a hole in a cow pasture 120 feet straight down. They used a 2000-pound test strength rope and an automobile-powered pulley to get in and out.

THE ACTIVITIES of this year's Ukranian Student Association included both cultural and social functions serving to further the members' understanding of their native culture. Highlights of the program included speeches, library exhibitions, art shows, parties, and picnics. Through association with the group, the members adjust well to campus life and are active in student affairs.

United Nations Club

AN AFFILIATE of the National Student Movement of Collegiate Council for the United Nations, the Maryland UN Club attempts to educate the public in the UN's activities and objectives. Projects for this year included sponsoring the lectures by missionaries, foreign students, and congressmen, who spoke about important international issues. Model general assembly, roundtable debates and the general program of the club stimulates student awareness and impresses upon them the importance of international problems.

Young Democrats

MID-TERM elections are over and the Young Democrats can begin planning their activities for the 1964 election. Dynamic campaigning this fall exemplified the club's interest and enthusiasm in politics. Affiliated with the Democratic National Committee, the club assists in all county, state and national elections by printing, distributing literature and by working at the polls.

Their main objectives are to stimulate interest in governmental affairs and politics, and to further the interests of the Party. However, the purpose of the group is social, as well as political. This year speakers, films and parties were arranged for the members' enjoyment.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS—Front Row: J. # Young Republicans

THE YOUNG REPUBLICAN Club attracts the many Maryland students who are interested in the Republican Party and in politics in general. This fall the members gained an insight into politics and some practical experience by being active in the state-wide campaign. They helped candidates by working in their offices and by campaigning in the field.

After the November elections, the students collected information concerning political affairs. They analyzed, discussed, and disseminated this information. Several Republicans who are now holding state-wide or national offices visited the Young Republican Club to aid in this endeavor. Both of these programs were designed to improve their organization on the local level in order that they may make a greater contribution to the national Republican Party.

Game Time

MARYLAND 7 SMU 0

Before classes got under way, the Class of 1966 was treated to a Maryland football victory — and a slam, bang affair it was.

Maryland took the opening kickoff of the second half and marched downfield for a TD. Key plays in the drive were three Dick Shiner passes to sophomore end Mike Funk. Shiner sprinted the final four yards around left end for the tally.

Shiner set a school record for total offensive yardage, accumulating 272 yards. He broke the record held by former Maryland All-American Jack Scarbath.

Coach Tom Nugent's sophomore discovery, halfback Len Chiaverini, was the Terps' leading runner, amassing 98 yards in 20 carries.

MARYLAND 13 WAKE FOREST 2

The Terps, in a big team burst, paraded up and down the field. "It took a good team effort . . . and that's exactly what we got," remarked fullback Joe Hrezo.

Maryland amassed 361 yards to Wake Forest's 183. In the second half, Wake Forest crossed the 50 yard line only once.

Early in the first quarter, Dick Shiner passed to Tom Brown on the Wake 15 yard line. Brown wheeled and raced in for a TD.

Opening the second half, Maryland drove 83 yards for a score, with Shiner passing to Tom Rae for 25 yards, and Len Chiaverini running nine yards over tackle behind perfect blocking.

Dick Shiner, the 'Rifleman'

FOOTBALL RECORDS fell like opposing linemen this season mainly as a result of Maryland's quarterback Dick Shiner. Whichever the situation demanded, air-attack or ground-assault, Shiner would ponder the situation and nearly always come up with the right move.

As the season wore on, each time Shiner took a center snap a record was broken: most of them had belonged to Maryland All-American Jack Scarbath. And, as the season closed, Maryland football fans looked forward to next season saying gleefully, "Shiner will be back next year."

Another Victory

MARYLAND 14    N.C. STATE 6

The North Carolina State Wolfpack was the victim of Maryland's third straight victory.

Sophomore halfback, Ken Amrusko, provided the spark which ignited the Terrapin attack. The tricky Terp ran a State punt 78 yards for Maryland's first score. Taking the punt, Amrusko bobbled the ball, was hit but squirmed away, danced out of a grab at his ankles and zipped past another would-be tackler while the partisan State fans fell silent.

Dick Shiner smuggled the ball four yards around left end for Maryland's second touch-down, capping a 62 yard drive in which Shiner completed four passes in four tries.

With the score at 14 to 6 and the Wolfpack driving, Tom Brown snagged a State desperation pass as the gun sounded.

A Common Interest

MARYLAND 31    N.C. 13

Maryland scored the first three times they had possession. The first touchdown came when Dick Shiner scooted five yards around end. Maryland followed this with a 21 yard scoring toss, Shiner to Brown, and led 14-0.

North Carolina did not give up and trailed by only four points at the half, 17-13. The slim Terp advantage was due to a 38 yard field goal by John Hannigan.

A scoreless third period built up tension, but Maryland exploded for two scores in the fourth quarter, set up by alert defensive play on Tarheel miscues.

Shiner accounted for 195 yards with his running and passing. He was asked before the game how many yards he intended to amass at the expense of the Carolinians, "two-hundred and some touchdowns," he predicted almost perfectly.

Girls Cheer a Display of Power

MARYLAND 13    S.C. 11

John Hannigan, a Johnny-come-automatically kicker, booted the game-winning field goal with 23 seconds left to play. John got two field goals in the game, bringing his career total to nine and breaking the Maryland record of seven. The winning touchdown drive began on Maryland's own 18 yard line.

Hannigan's 31 yard kick in the first quarter gave the Terps their first advantage, 3-0.

A 73 yard drive, climaxed by an eight yard, Shiner to Brown, bullet pass made it 10-0.

Interceptions set up the touchdown and field goal the Gamecocks needed to forge ahead, 11-10. Then came Hannigan's game-winner.

In this game, Maryland stars, Chiaverini, Brown, Shiner, and Hannigan, broke or tied a host of school records.

MARYLAND 7    PENN STATE 23

Snow weighed down the Terrapin attack, but Penn State mustered runners on which they skidded to victory.

Maryland assembled an 80 yard drive for their touchdown, Dick Shiner leaping over the goal line from a foot away.

Shiner's passing in this game netted him 1,067 yards for the season and enabled him to top the University of Maryland record of 1,049 formerly held by Jack Scarbath.

Fumbles and three costly pass interceptions proved the undoing of the Maryland offensive machine as they lost the ball three out of the first five times they had it.

The turning point of the game was Don Caum's pass interception early in the fourth period which set up State's second touchdown.

'It Were Close'

MARYLAND 7    DUKE 10

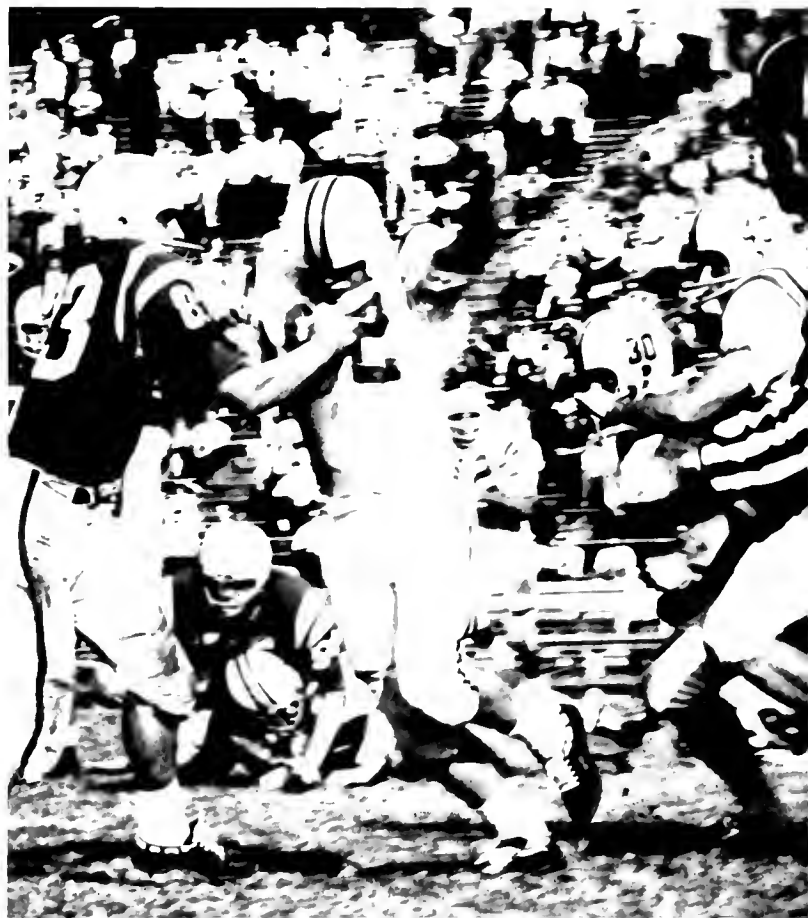

The Terps mustered their finest offensive attack of the season and topped the Blue Devils in every major offensive department but one.

Key pass interceptions by Duke kept the victory away from Maryland. Maryland's touch-down was the climax of a 65 yard drive, Dick Shiner getting the final five yards needed for the TD.

Maryland marched 72 yards with the opening kickoff only to have the drive halted by an interception on the Duke goal line.

The Terrapins tried again, this time going 52 yards but losing the ball through another interception at the goal.

Halfback Len Chiaverini was the game's best rusher getting 99 yards in 26 carries.

Ups and Downs

MARYLAND 14    CLEMSON 17

Clemson turned the tables in a way more familiarly associated with Maryland victories over the Tigers—a field goal with one minute and twelve seconds left in the game.

Maryland started off the scoring with a methodic 77 yard march capped by a two yard leap by Len Chiaverini.

Later, halfback Ernie Arizzi took advantage of an errant Clemson pass and excellent Maryland blocking to gallop 68 yards for a touchdown.

Clemson hammered 53 yards to Maryland's seven where the field goal floated the game out of the Terps' reach.

This was a game in which Dick Shiner's performance enabled him to top the total offense record of 1,286 yards formerly held by All-American Jack Scarbath.

MARYLAND 40    VIRGINIA 18

Sophomores predicted a bright future for Maryland football as the Terps scored by every means possible in their closing game.

Highlights of the game were a 100 yard touchdown run with an interception by Tom Brown and a record tying pass reception performance by the lanky Terp. Brown snared his forty-seventh pass tying the Atlantic Coast Conference single season record.

Sophomore halfback Len Chiaverini started the scoring parade with a nine yard touchdown run, while another sophomore, Ken Ambrusko, sprinted 58 yards for a TD.

Quarterback Jim Corcoran, a sophomore, hit Brown with a touchdown pass, connected with end Mike Funk for a six-pointer, and ran for two two-point conversions.

Bob Burton notched a safety for the Terrapins, spilling Virginia's quarterback in the end zone and John Hannigan contributed a 22 yard field goal, as the Terrapins finished off a very fine winning season.

TOMMY BROWN goes down the field the hard way, displaying the power and energy that put him on the Washington Senators' roster.

Youth Triumphs

VARSITY 24 ALUMNI 0

Dick Shiner, voted the outstanding player in the game for the second time, was the key man in Maryland's winning attack.

Shiner climaxed a six play, 62 yard drive with a five yard touchdown romp around end.

Later, trapped trying to pass, Shiner showed his heels to three grads and the goal line, adding an 11 yard score.

Quarterback Cliff Melton chipped in with a four yard roll-out TD.

John Hannigan's three conversions and a 27 yard field goal iced the undergrad's shutout.

Leaving College Park on Thursday, October 18, the team spent the night in a Baltimore motel before heading for Miami. Attentive stewardesses supplied every comfort on the flight, and the players were met at the airport by a cordial group of sun-tanned Miami coeds. MIAMI 28

THE MIAMI HURRICANES, sparked by All-American George Mira, handed the Terps their first defeat, 28-24. A Maryland audience in Cole Field House watched the contest on closed circuit television.

The Terps took the lead, as Tommy Brown nabbed the opening kickoff on his own 2-yard line and sped 98 yards for a touchdown. John Hannigan then missed the only conversion of his varsity career.

Miami went ahead less than six minutes later when Mira hit halfback Nick Ryder on a 7-yard scoring pass and Bob Wilson converted for a 7-6 Hurricane lead.

Back and forth went the score, as Mira, hitting on 21 of 31 pass attempts for 288 yards, and Shiner, with 15 hits in 21 attempts for 176 yards, kept the pigskin high overhead.

Varsity Soccer

THE MARYLAND soccer team compiled a ten game winning streak with eight victories in regular season games and two in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Tournament. In the tourney the booters nipped Pittsburgh, 4-3, and swamped Springfield, 5-0, before being beaten in the final game by St. Louis.

The Terps' eight ACC wins gained their ninth consecutive Conference championship title for them.

Co-captain, Richard Roe, tied an Atlantic Coast Conference record by scoring 26 goals in Maryland's 11 games.

The team's offensive punch was a record breaker as they tallied 58 times to set a new Conference mark while allowing their opponents only 13 goals the entire season.

Twice the booters scored 11 times in one game and finished the regular season with a win over arch-rival Navy.

Against other opponents, the Terrapins split four matches beating Army and arch-rival Navy and losing to Penn State and Pittsburgh.

Seniors Ron Maunder and Roger Neutze and Sophomore Tim Geiger finished the season undefeated. Sophomores Nelson Aurand, Robert Kopnisky, Thomas Quelet, and Amando Soto also carried the Terp laurels. Sam Bossert, although out with an injury for most of the season, came back to notch a 2-2 record and retain his ACC title.

Varsity Basketball

THE TERP hoopsters finished the season with a record of eight wins and thirteen losses. The squad completed the season with a 4-2 record outside the Atlantic Coast Conference and a 4-10 Conference record, good for a sixth place tie with South Carolina.

Leading the Terps this season with a 17.8 scoring average was Jerry Greenspan who was named to the All-Atlantic Coast Conference second team.

Sophomores Sam McWilliams and Phil Carlson and Junior Scott Ferguson were also standouts on the team and will form the nucleus of the future Terp attack.

Maryland retained their area title by defeating George Washington twice and splitting two games with Georgetown.

At the close of the season, Coach Bud Millikan summed up this way, "Although we didn't have a good year, we played some good basketball and had some real exciting ball games. With the addition of this year's freshman team which had a great record, and with the returnees gaining valuable experience, our basketball program is on the upswing."

Rifle

THE UNIVERSITY of Maryland Rifle Team, after an extensive rebuilding program, became one of the top five teams in the nation this year.

Through the efforts of Russ Warye, team Captain, Tom Verzi, Rex Rader, Pete Gordon and Phil Hansen, the team compiled a 16-2 record in intercollegiate competition. In other National Rifle Association competitions the team maintained itself as the top team in the Washington area.

Others contributing to the team effort this year were Pat Sanford, Ruth Coile, Lowell Starling, Jean Hayes, Rod Hall, and Bob Marder. Administrative and coaching assistance was received from Bill Cobey, Director of Athletics; Arthur E. Cook, team coach and former Olympic Champion; George Talios, marksmanship official, and Donald Poole, Manager.

TOM BROWN, Maryland's All-American, is now with the Washington Senators.

THE UNIVERSITY of Maryland Baseball Team finished the season with an overall record of 7-14.

Outstanding in many departments was junior outfielder, Tom Brown. Brown led the team with a .449 batting average that set an ACC record. He was also the team leader in hits, doubles and triples, and earned a place on the First Team All-American squad.

Grayson Harmeyer and Bill Turner also hit over .300 for the Terps. Pitcher Jack Lund had a commendable 1.68 earned-run average.

TRACK CAPTAINS Mark Wells and Guy Harper.

TRACK COACH Jim Kehoe

THE TERRAPIN trackmen captured their eighth straight outdoor ACC track championship under Coach Jim Kehoe with a convincing victory at South Carolina. Conference champions were Mark Wells in the mile, Chris Stauffer in the 440 and 220, Dick Smith in the 880, Ray Montgomery in the javelin, and John Belitza in the pole vault.

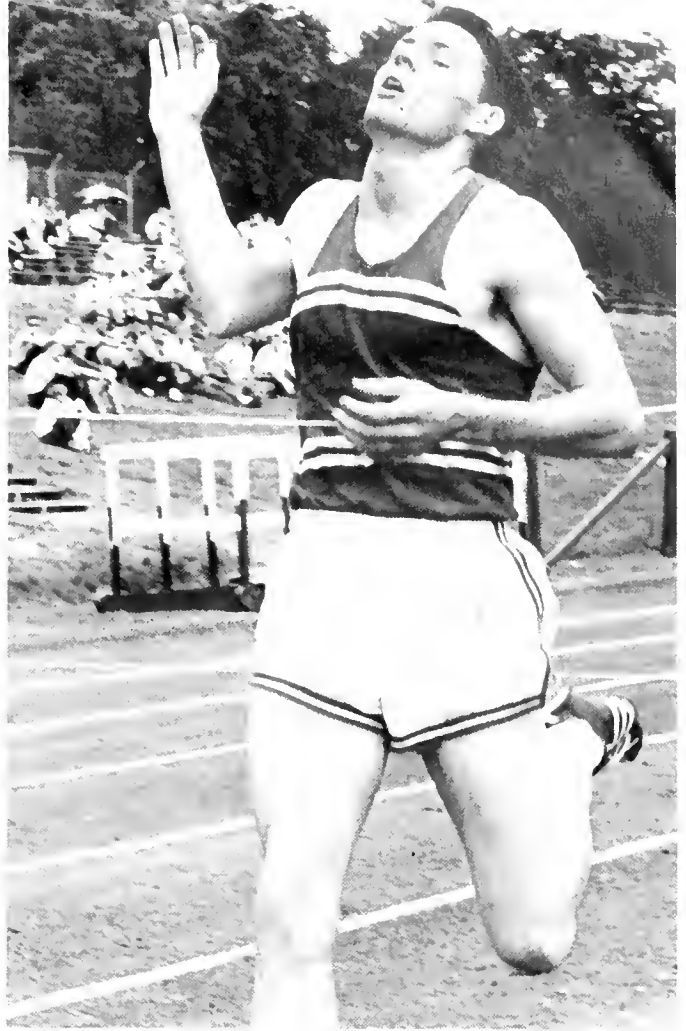

In the NCAA finals two Terps attained national recognition when Belitza tied for a first place in the pole vault and Stauffer placed second in the 440 hurdles. These performances were the best ever by Maryland cindermen in the NCAA championships. In the dual meet season Maryland's only loss was to Navy—their first dual meet defeat in the last five years.

The Terps split their exhibition games with professional clubs, defeating the Australian team and the Maryland Club while losing to the Baltimore and Mt. Washington Clubs.

The season's outstanding stickman was All-American Buddy Beardmore, who set records for most goals by a midfielder in a season and career. His 7 goals in one game are a single game record. The highlight of the season for coaches Faber and Heagy was a 16-15 Terp victory over Johns Hopkins in which Ray Altman tallied three goals and had 4 assists.

Sigma Chi, although they had placed second during the regular season, went on to defeat Phi Delta Theta by a 13-12 margin for the fraternity championship. Their victory which came in the final minutes of an overtime period ended a Phi Delta Theta victory streak of 22 games. Phi Delt was previously undefeated, beating TKE in a closely contested semi-final game. Sigma Chi emerged victorious from their semi-final game against Theta Chi.

Frederick Hall led the men's dorms in their league when they captured the dorm championship by beating Catocin trailers.

The basketball laurels were received by Cecil Hall, dorm champions; Phi Delta Theta, fraternity champions; and the Studs, open league champions.

Women's Recreational Association

THE WOMEN'S Recreation Association is a student organization which provides a program of athletics for women students at Maryland. Its purposes are to provide opportunities for fun and leadership in sports for women. The WRA program has a variety of activities which include intramurals, intercollegiate competition, interest groups and affiliated clubs.

During the fall women's dorms and sororities are found competing in volleyball, badminton, ping pong, and girls hockey. Winter sports include basketball, swimming, and bowling. Archery, tennis, and softball appear on the scene as the warm spring weather comes into view. The inter-sorority and dorm swimming meet requires participation in the swimming marathon, relays, and races. All aspects of recreation may be found in WRA.

Athletic Staff

WILLIAM W. COBEY, Director of Athletics

THE ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT of the University of Maryland is made up of capable men who provide support and direction for the University's program of athletics.

Bill Cobey has been the director of athletics at Maryland for seven years. His industrious efforts have made him the backbone of the athletic program.

"Duke" Wyre is Maryland's nationally famous trainer. During his sixteen years at Maryland he has been an important asset for our team.

Publicity for Maryland's athletics are handled efficiently by Niel Labar, who came to Maryland just this year.

Maryland's ticket manager is Eddie Bean, whose talent for organization has made him indispensable to the Department.

Women's Dorms

OVER 2,000 girls take part in the unique experience of living on campus and learning to live with others. Some girls come to classes from Montgomery Hall, a former boys' dorm renovated two years ago to help house the rapidly growing enrollment; others take the walk from the new Cambridge Complex where Cumberland North and Centreville are located.

The organization of the residences provides for Monday night dorm meetings, desserts with the men's dorms, fireside chats where guest speakers are invited to discuss issues, annual Christmas parties, and that rare feeling of home away from home.

The beginning of each semester is always filled with the worry of how to decorate one room differently from the other and the task of learning and living by University regulations as explained in the Associated Women Students handbook, Information Please.

Living on campus is a privilege. Next year more girls can take advantage of this opportunity when Denton Hall opens. The future looks favorable for many girls to learn, work, and live in campus residences.

Dorm Life Of A M.U. Coed

BUSY days crammed with dorm activities, classes, studies, and part time jobs, with moments sandwiched in between for hurried trips to the dining hall, make up the life of the Maryland coed. Gab sessions or higher level discussions are left to the late hours of the night. When the busy day is over, the day takes on a slower pace.

Ginny Fitzgerald, a sophomore majoring in Fine Arts, begins her day early with 8 o'clock classes. She spends 10 hours a week in art classes, where she enjoys most her freedom of self-expression. Minorng in English literature, Ginny is one of the rare persons who enjoys writing compositions.

Twelve hours of valuable time are spent working in the Housing Office doing general clerical work. Back in her dorm, Worcester Hall, Ginny may find herself eating dinner from a Macke machine while organizing the Homecoming decorations (she was chairman) or arranging for a dessert in her job as assistant social chairman.

RISING EARLY, Ginny carefully combs her hair preparing for her day of classes.

CLIMAXING a long day of classes, Ginny approaches the Main Dining Hall for dinner.

GINNY ENJOYS the remaining minutes with her escort before sign-in after a date.

A FEW quiet moments are enjoyed by our coed as she relaxes before breakfast.

BURNING the midnight oil, Ginny prepares for her Botany lecture the following day.

AN EMPLOYEE in the Housing Office. Ginny works twelve hours a week as a secretary.

GINNY and her friend discuss their date for the evening on the Worcester steps.

A Busy Schedule

THE majority of the dorm girls, including Ginny, serve as big sisters for incoming freshmen to acquaint them with dorm life.

Jokes played on unsuspecting dorm mates or phone calls provide diversions from long nights of study. Ginny has budgeted her time well enough to maintain a B average in her major.

A graduate of Howard County Senior High School, she chose Maryland because she felt it offered diverse education as well as practical application of Fine Arts courses. She was well prepared for college, she felt, and the adjustment to college English was the most difficult relatively.

The weekend brings Ginny well earned relaxation and time for dates on Friday and Saturday nights. A date for the National Symphony, a football game, or a cultural program tops her list of favorites.

Inevitably, Monday morning dawns and the busy days begin again, the exciting days which happen only in the life of a college coed.

RESEARCHING is a must for English Four.

OUR PRETTY COED is able to observe under microscope what she has been taught.

CHRISTMAS VACATION begins for Ginny as she leaves her dormitory for home.

GINNY LISTENS attentively to her instructor of modern dance in her Physical Ed. class.

Men's Dorms

MEN'S dormitories are a different form of life. Different in that mother is not there to cook, wash clothes, iron and do those thousands of other easily forgotten things.

New residents quickly learn that tooth paste, facial tissues and hair tonic cost money. Dad isn't there to provide.

Homesickness is common at first. There are no pets, brothers or sisters, or well stocked refrigerators to raid at midnight.

Life becomes different—difficult for some. Dorm life is a convenience and a responsibility.

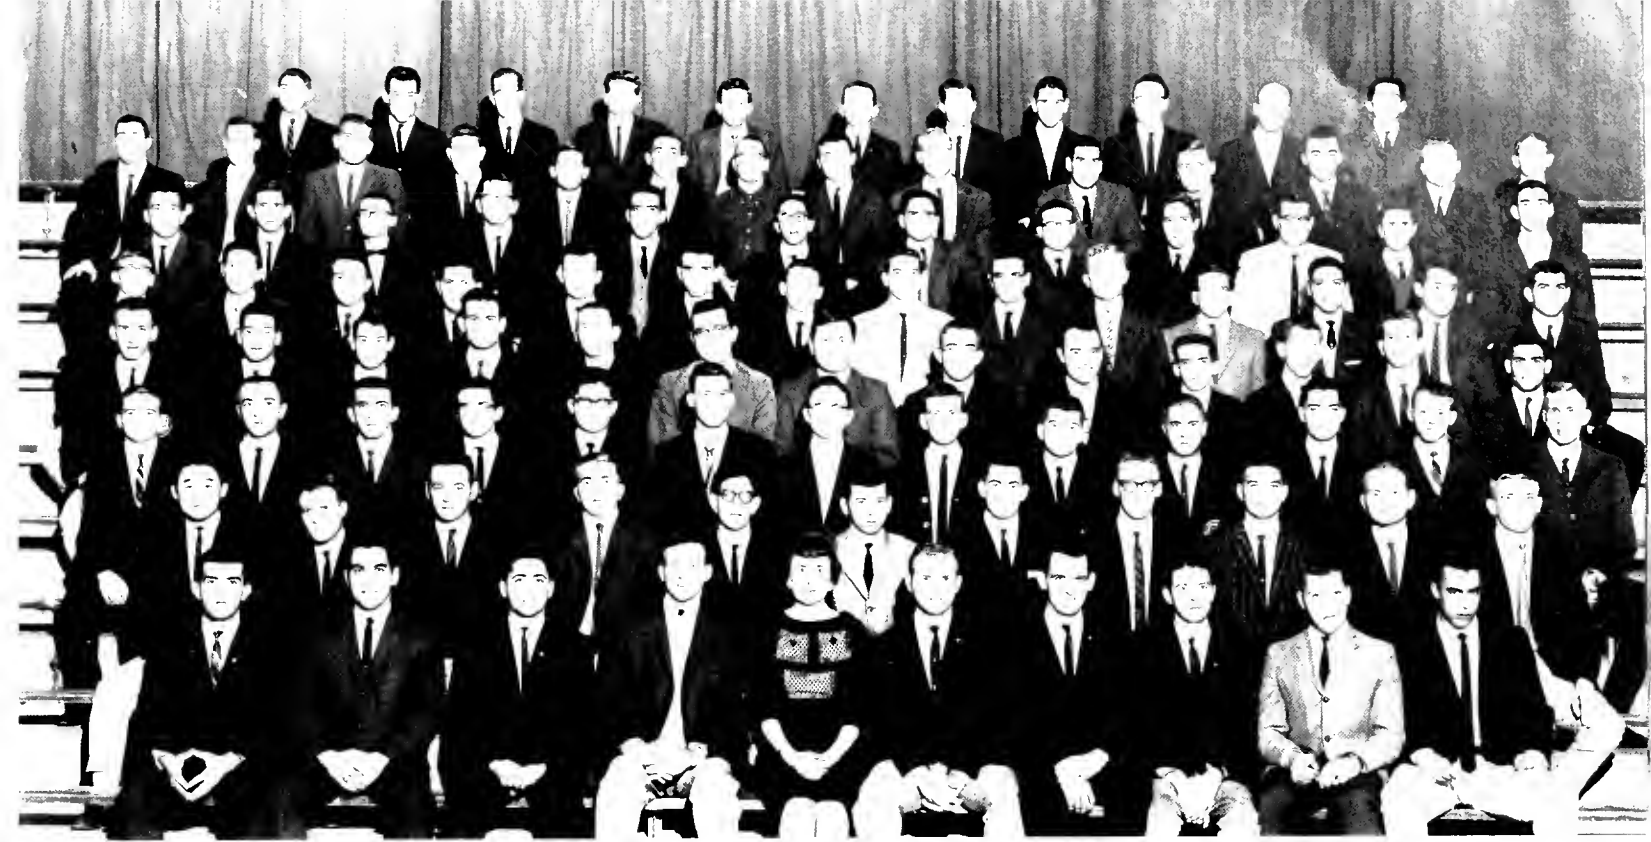

When a man moves into a dorm he sheds the problems of the commuter. He need not worry about finding a parking space when he is already 10 minutes late to class. Dead car batteries and traffic jams aren't his concern, either.

He suddenly has complete freedom. No one holds him responsible for the hours he keeps or where he goes. He can study if he wants or just waste his time. And here the difficulty begins for some men residents.

It's really quite easy to flunk out of the University, as many students have found. But that is not the only problem some men face. There are dorm meetings, quiet hours and room inspections. Then there is the dining hall.

Dorm life can be happy. There are desserts with the women's dorms, bull sessions and a feeling of belonging.

Sororities

*"We need one another."
Working for the pursuit of higher ideals
and education,
sorority members unite
in lifetime friendships.*

"NO MAN is an island, no man stands alone." Standing together in study, activity and purpose, sorority members become a continent unto themselves. United by bonds of co-operation, unselfishness and idealism, each group strives for personal development through perfection of the whole. Every aspect of sorority life is emphasized with their scholarship, social and service project chairmen. The wearing of a pin does not symbolize superiority but rather it is considered a responsibility. Not only is a sorority girl responsible to herself but also to her sisters. She has entered a lifetime relationship in which all honors, happiness, and problems are shared.

Many events in her college life strengthen her union with her sorority. The numerous philanthropic projects ranging from handicapped children to scholarship to settlement houses teach the importance of serving others. Traditional serenades for pinnings and engagements, working with fraternities for the Sophomore Carnival, Panhel's Orphanage Party, decorating for Homecoming and helping the pledges all add special highlights. As understanding of the initiation rituals increases, so the standards and ideals of each sorority become a more meaningful part of every sorority girl's life.

Myth, Mirth and Merriment

FROM THE rocky shoreline of Greece to the rolling hills of Maryland, Greek life has arisen and developed. Emphasizing the Socratic pursuit of knowledge, fraternities and sororities carry on the traditions originated in the land of Zeus and Achilles. Acting as independent city-states each fraternity individually attempts "to strive always for excellence and surpass all others." Yet, as the ancient Greeks united in the Panhellenic Games at Olympus and Delphi, so the Greeks at Maryland express their unity in seven days of activity, fun and reflection . . . Greek Week.

The casual surroundings of picnic grounds, the heavy foliage of trees, and the serenity found away from studies contribute to Greek togetherness.

The warmth of a May afternoon and the excitement of a river cruise provide the atmosphere for the annual Greek boat ride.

Greeks, Wheels and Speed

THE GREEK love of athletics and outdoor activity reaches its greatest height during Greek Week. The boat trip on the Potomac River to the amusement park at Marshall Hall, the sports car races, the chariot races, all improvisations to a degree on the Olympian sports of old, increase excitement and enthusiasm. The Greek spirit strengthens and its individuality and desire for recognition are again evident in the competitive events.

The ancient Greek intensity of spirit becomes involved in the activities and races of the present as even the heritage of the wheel acquires new aspects, problems and purposes.

“Blessed is the man who by excellence of hand and speed of foot takes by strength and daring the highest of prizes.” The achievement of success in Pindar’s time was considered a blessing from the gods although hard personal effort was also recognized as necessary. In the many events during Greek Week contestants strive to gain honor for their fraternities and sororities and in a sense for their special deity. For just as the ancient Greeks had numerous gods from Zeus to Aphrodite, so each group has their own in their ritual. Special symbolic colors, flowers, and pins join members in strong bonds of unity and ideals that inspire higher achievement.

From Olympus to Maryland, Greek Spirit Lives On

FROM THE ancient Greek stadium to the modern parking lot, the Olympian Games continue with traditional fervor and intensity. Bicycle-built chariots revive the days of Heliuss and Phaethon as some succeed and some fail. Marathon races and four-man relays are prevalent as well as tug-of-wars, telephone booth stuffing contests and three-man basketball games. For the followers of Hera and Aphrodite, there are shotput and javelin contests using water-filled balloons and brooms. At the Greekana, autos reveal the progress of the wheel as they proceed through hazardous races of speed and precision, exhibiting the balance and calm of former times.

Having goddesses Athena and Hera with them in spirit, the feminine side prepares to conquer.

The inquisitive look to insure the right time for action and battle aids this present-day Greek warrior.

As Zeus sat in judgment of his people, so the Greek officials consider the many contestants

And they were off with the speed of Heliuss as ZBT took the chariot lead.

Musical Memories

WITH A CHANGE of scenery and costume, Greeks travel from the days of singing homage to Dionysus and Apollo to arrive at their own Harmony Hall, Jazz Concert, and Interfraternity Sing. These musical renditions require time and talent and lead to victories as those won by Alpha Delta Pi and Lambda Chi at Harmony Hall. From choral odes to barbershop melodies, from lyres to trumpets, the hours of rehearsal and attendance draw members into stronger unity.

Further attempts at Panhellenic spirit are centered in the organization of fraternities and sororities into separate bodies. The Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Association have become the present-day Delphic and Hellenic Leagues. With individual contributions forming the basis, these organizations work for the betterment of all Greeks. Exchange dinners, cultural meetings and workshops are just a few of their endeavors. Each year the Interfraternity Council Presents brings to campus such well-known entertainers as The Highwaymen and Roger Williams.

Thus, as the former Greeks, recognizing man's intrinsic value, strived to improve all facets of his life—the intellectual, moral, and physical—so do all the sororities and fraternities rededicate themselves to working for the ideals of their ancient heritage.

Fraternities

BEING TAPPED into Kalegathos is the most coveted honor of the Greek male. Kalegathos provides recognition for outstanding achievements in scholarship and extra-curricular activities. The hard work and constant striving necessary to attain such a high honor is indicative of the aims of the Greek system as a whole.

At the University of Maryland the fraternity system molds school boys into men. Through participation in Greek activities, such as community service projects, the pledge learns to form high ideals, which bring into focus the importance of achieving his future goals. During his pledgship, a neophyte is exposed to the academic environment responsible for making the average of the Maryland Greek system one of the highest on campus.

After initiation the Greek male becomes more active in campus affairs. Through the guidance of more experienced brothers the new initiate may choose to seek office in the Student Government Association of the Interfraternity Council. He masters the art of dealing with people intelligently while at the same time he makes life long friends.

If the Greek male continues to strive, he may elevate himself to the highest position in student affairs. In these positions the Greek male becomes an experienced, mature leader who is completely equipped to step out into the world and be assured of success. It is these leaders who instill in their brothers the social confidence so necessary for existence in the world of today.

The Greek male claims pride not perfection: no one is perfect, but by striving for the ultimate he has attained a place in the University second to none.

Council

THE PANHELLENIC COUNCIL serves as a central organization representing the sororities on the Maryland campus. Promotion of intellectual accomplishments and sound scholarship, maintenance of high social standards, and coordination of interfraternity relations are important goals of Panhel. It also compiles the rules governing rush, pledging, and initiation on campus.

Panhel sponsors numerous activities such as sponsoring a foster child, fireside chats, exchange dinners, a Recognition Key for the outstanding contributor to Panhel, a Junior Panhel dance, and co-sponsorship of Greek Week. Panhel workshop held in the Spring, offers suggestions for sorority rushing, pledging, scholarship and presidents.

Panhel also sponsored a contest in conjunction with Glamour magazine, and held a Panhellenic dance at Indian Springs in honor of the pledges of each sorority.

THE INTER-FRATERNITY Council's purpose is to instill the unity of brotherhood throughout the fraternity system and to promote high ideals and values consistent with those of the University.

This year the IFC has been extremely busy with projects to raise scholarships and philanthropic funds and to help the chapters meet the changing demands upon the fraternity system.

Each fall, nationally known entertainers are featured in IFC Presents. This year Roger Williams headlined "An Evening in November." All profits from IFC Presents entered a scholarship fund. During Greek Week, the IFC set up a circus for the entertainment of underprivileged children. Also this spring, the IFC printed calendars, the profits going to Campus Chest. During a three-day weekend, four members of each fraternity, Dr. Elkins and Dean Borreson gathered for an IFC Convention. At the Convention they heard lectures and attended small discussion groups, all concerned with the problems of an evolving fraternity system.

Commuters

FROM THE wee small hours of the misty dawn to the approaching gray dusk, weary travelers—the commuters—make their way to and from school. Struggling with numerous books, they can be seen trudging daily across the hills of Anne Arundel and the sidewalks in front of Cole Fieldhouse. Involved in their journies are enjoyable, hectic and annoying experiences.

The eight o'clock traffic jams, the scarce parking facilities, the paper bag lunches, the early rising hours, the privileges of home cooking and no curfews or sign outs are all part of the commuter's life.

Whether coming on motor cycle, on bikes, in cars or walking, the commuter invariably finds his refuge in the recently enlarged Student Union. Besides its cafeteria, bowling alleys, movie theatre and other recreational facilities, the Student Union is the headquarters of the University Commuters' Association. This organization sponsors numerous activities for the social, intellectual and cultural interests of its members. Hayrides, dances, speakers and car pool programs are all arranged for the commuter's benefit. The UCA's newsletter keeps its readers informed of campus events and the commuter program.

Another phase of commuter life is touched on by the mobile dorm residents. These "week-end warriors" leave campus after their last class on Friday in a mass exodus. The deserted, lonely campus grounds do not pick up their old vitality until late Sunday with the return of these part-time commuters.

However, whether weekend or every day journeyers, the commuters comprise a large section of the campus population and are ever-increasing.

And Away They Go!

MARYLAND'S commuters express their need for transportation in many ways. Some conform and park their jalopys in the great sea of unwashed cars on student parking lots and hike in rain, snow or heat to their classes. Others are more individualistic. They stand on curbs along campus roads with their thumbs pointing in the direction they are going, hoping some compassionate driver will give them a lift. Still others meet the need by riding motoreycles which they can park almost anywhere. A few commuters, who are just too lazy to walk, park anyplace they choose and often pay for it.

I now have an A.B."*

*Said the world

I'll show you the rest of the alphabet."*

After four years ... that final moment

FOUR long years of waiting, of sweating, of yearning for that piece of paper. Four years of classes, exams, term papers, and dean slips. And now it's all wrapped up in this one more hour of waiting . . . but for once, there's no hurry. These scenes from the 1962 exercises show what it's like as a record 3039 degrees were awarded. Students listened to Thomas B. McCabe, board chairman of Scott Paper Company, deliver the main address—but they couldn't tell you what he said. Their thoughts were on the sweet smell of accomplishment, and the nostalgic taste of a large slice of life just consumed.

Graduation

. . . as others see it

MEMORIES of the big day will be as varied as emotions. Where little brother sees a wonder-filled preview of the day when he will go to college, a big sister sees the interlude as not quite worth the interruption of an Agatha Christie who-dunit. A proud-but-fatigued papa momentarily succumbs to the speaker's soothing voice while the ubiquitous professor chews on his pipe. Each in his own way will remember commencement which never changes, yet is never quite the same. To the graduate, it means the beginning of a new life.

To the reader of 2000 A.D.

IF YOU have stuck with it this far you have just finished going through a pictorial and word history of the University of Maryland for the year 1963. We hope you enjoyed it.

The Terrapin this year followed a fairly new concept in its design and format, in that it is a picture story of the University, and not just the traditional family album. This was done to illustrate the belief that a university is made up of three things: PEOPLE, from the students through the instructors and administrators down to the last grounds keeper; PHYSICAL PLANT, the buildings, labs, scientific apparatus, and parking lots that are all taken for granted; IDEAS AND BELIEFS, that education makes a people strong physically and morally, and that by learning to pursue ideals early in life a better and more fulfilled individual will result.

All of the picture stories show one or more of these three aspects, and contribute to a well rounded study. We are particularly proud of the color section, because in its own way it adds another dimension to the book.

One of the things a person likes most about a yearbook is seeing his face in print. This is understandable, but in a university the size of Maryland it is an impossibility to run a photo of each student, unless the book is to be page upon unending page of mug shots. A family album book containing many unrelated photographs is a great book if your face happens to be among those pictured, but it has little or no interest for the student who wasn't in the line of fire when a picture was snapped. That is why we have tried to make the TERRAPIN a truly representative statement on Maryland for this year of 1963. The real test of this book will not be the week it is distributed, but in 20, 30, or 40 years when you pick it up again. If you can get the feeling that you are once again back at Maryland, the way it was when you were a student, then this book will have been a success.

In closing we would like to thank some of the people who made this TERRAPIN a reality. Our warmest thanks to the TERRAPIN's best friend, Mr. Sidney Schultz (Uncle Schultz) of H. G. Roebuck and Son; our adviser Mr. Bedford who kept us from being swamped; Jim Pizzuto who helped us carry out some of our graphic illustrations; Harris & Ewing who handled the myriad of senior pictures; and S. K. Smith Co. who went out of its way to come up with this year's cover.
